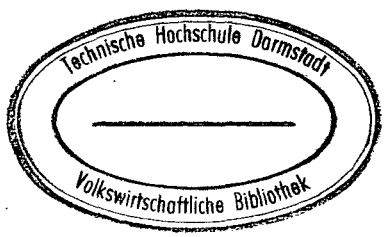
OECD PROCEEDINGS

Migration and Regional Economic Integration in Asia



PUBLISHER'S NOTE
The following texts are published in their original form to permit faster distribution at a lower cost.

VB TU Darmstadt
51576373

ORGANISATION FOR ECONOMIC CO-OPERATION AND DEVELOPMENT

TABLE OF CONTENTS

GENERAL INTRODUCTION 7

PART I. REGIONAL ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND LABOUR MIGRATION

A. Economic development in Asia and its consequences for labour migration by Yasuo Kuwahara 19

B. Technology and skill transfers to other Asian countries by Japanese companies by Minoru Ito 27

C. Sub-regional economic integration and labour migration in East Asia
by Won Bae Kim 33

D. Growth triangles: the Indonesian experience by Aris Ananta and Suahasil Nazara 43

E. Emigration pressures in selected Asian countries: some preliminary findings by Manolo I. Abella 53

PART II. RECENT TRENDS IN LABOUR MIGRATION MOVEMENTS: COUNTRY STUDIES

A. China: from labour export to sub-regional economic development 73

B. Hong Kong: labour market changes and international migration of labour
by David A. Levin and Stephen W.K. Chiu 81

C. Indonesia: towards an integrated labour market by Aris Ananta and Turro S. Wongkaren 97

D. Labour market changes and international migration: the Japanese experience by Yashushi Iguchi 107

E. The Republic of Korea: trends and recent developments in international migration by Young-bum Park 121

F. Malaysia: trends and recent developments in international migration by Patrick Pillai and Zainal Aznam Yusof 133

G. The Philippines: a look into the migration scenario in the nineties by Stella Go 145

H. Labour migration in Singapore: trends and policies
by Weng-Tat Hui 155

I. Dilemmas of rapid growth: international migration and cross-border flows in Thailand by Yongyuth Chalamwong 167