

Foundations of Comparative Politics

Democracies of the Modern World

KEN NEWTON and JAN W. VAN DETH

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Acknowledgements	page	xix
List of briefings		xx
List of fact files		xxii
List of controversies		xxiii
List of tables		xxiv
List of figures		xxv
List of abbreviations and acronyms		xxvi
Key terms and concepts		xxviii
PART I	The state: origins and development	1
1	The development of the modern state	3
	What is a state?	4
	Territory, people and sovereignty	8
	The rise of the modern state	11
	Historical origins and development	11
	State formation and nation building	12
	State formation: penetration	13
	Nation building: standardisation	13
	Mass democracies: equalisation	14
	Welfare states: redistribution	14
	Catalysts: warfare and capitalism	15
	Growth after 1945	16
	State theories	17
	Constitutional approaches	18
	Ethical and moral approaches	18
	Conflict approaches	18
	Pluralist approaches	19
	Summary	20
	Further reading	20
	Projects	21
2	The democratic state	22
	The modern state and democracy	23

	Citizens' rights	23
	Elections and parliamentary accountability	24
	Democracy and the rise of democratic states	26
	Redistribution and the welfare state	29
	Why study states?	30
	Theories of state and society	34
	State supremacy	34
	State dependency	35
	Interdependency	36
	Separation and autonomy	36
	Summary	37
	Further reading	37
	Projects	38
PART II	The polity: structures and institutions	39
3	Constitutions	41
	What a constitution is, and why we have them	42
	The division of powers	44
	Executives	45
	Legislatures	45
	Strong and weak bicameralism	48
	Membership of the second house	49
	Tenure and size	49
	Judiciaries	49
	Judicial activism	51
	Unitary and federal states	51
	The limits of constitutionalism	52
	Constitutional and institutional theories	53
	The 'old constitutionalism'	53
	The 'new constitutionalism'	53
	The 'new institutionalism'	55
	The mobilisation of bias	56
	Institutional influence, rules and inertia	56
	Marxist structural theory	57
	Governance	57
	Summary	58
	Further reading	58
	Projects	59
4	Presidential and parliamentary government	60
	Presidential systems	61
	Parliamentary systems	63
	Semi-presidential systems	65
	Presidential, parliamentary and semi-presidential systems compared	66

Theories of parliamentary, presidential and semi-presidential government	66
Summary	70
Further reading	71
Projects	71
5 Multi-level government: international, national and sub-national	72
Supra-national and international government	74
Confederations	74
The European Union: federation or confederation?	76
The national level: federal and unitary states	76
Geographically large states	78
States with markedly different geographical regions	79
Unitary and federal systems in practice	81
Quasi-federal features	81
Unitary, federal and confederal government compared	82
Local government	84
Fused systems	85
Dual systems	85
Local self-government	85
Central-local political conflict	86
Democracy, size and efficiency	87
General-purpose authorities	88
Joint bodies	89
Special-purpose authorities	89
Changing local government	89
The interplay of multi-level government: the case of the European Union	92
The arguments for and against centralisation and decentralisation	92
Theories of multi-level government	94
Philosophical and political theories: Mill and Tocqueville	94
Pluralist theory	94
Economic theories	95
Rational choice	95
Rational-choice theory of local government	96
Centre-periphery relations	96
Summary	97
Further reading	98
Projects	99

6	Policy making and legislating: executives and legislatures	100
	Making laws: executives and legislatures	101
	The rise of executives	103
	Government complexity	103
	Delegated legislation	103
	The organisational advantages of executives	103
	The mass media	104
	Party organisation	104
	Increasing power of executives?	105
	The functions of legislatures	106
	Representation of public opinion	107
	Legitimation	107
	Law making	108
	Scrutiny of the executive and the administration	108
	Legislative committees	110
	Theories of democratic institutions: consensus and majoritarian systems	111
	Majoritarian democracy, or the 'Westminster model'	112
	Consensus democracy	113
	Summary	115
	Further reading	115
	Projects	116
7	Implementation: the public bureaucracy	117
	The organisation of the state bureaucracy	118
	Policy making and administration	122
	The dictatorship of the official?	123
	The power of the official	123
	Mechanisms of control	124
	The New Public Management: reinventing government	125
	Privatisation and market efficiency	125
	Empowerment	125
	Theories of public bureaucracy	126
	The rational-legal ideal-type	126
	Clientelism	127
	The new right, rational choice and the New Public Management	128
	Rational choice and bureaucracy	128
	The New Public Management	129
	Summary	130
	Further reading	130
	Projects	131

Part III	Citizens, elites and interest mediation	133
8	Political attitudes and behaviour	135
	Political attitudes	136
	Political interests and identity	136
	Political culture	137
	Pattern	138
	Persistence	139
	The civic culture	139
	Cognitive	139
	Affective	139
	Evaluative	139
	Materialism and post-materialism	141
	Sub-cultures and elite cultures	143
	Political cleavages	144
	Political behaviour	146
	Modes of political behaviour	147
	Conventional and unconventional political behaviour	149
	Patterns of political behaviour	149
	Most people are not political	149
	Sporadic political involvement	150
	Participation rates are rising	151
	Substantial variations in participation	151
	Voters are not fools	151
	The 'standard model' of political participation	152
	Gender, age and length of residence	153
	Political elites	153
	Theories of political attitudes and behaviour	154
	Marxist and class theory	154
	Elite theory	154
	Rational-choice theory	155
	Social capital theory and civic participation	156
	Summary	156
	Further reading	157
	Projects	158
9	Pressure groups and social movements	159
	Political connections	160
	Voluntary organisations and pressure groups	160
	Pressure groups and political parties	162
	Social movements	162
	Pressure groups and social movements in action	164
	Groups and issues	165
	The nature of government	166

	Direct routes	166
	Indirect routes	168
	Determinants of power	169
	Group features	170
	The political environment	171
	Corporatism, para-government and tri-partism/pluralism	172
	Corporatism	172
	Para-government	173
	Tri-partism/pluralism	173
	International NGOs	173
	Groups, pressure groups and democracy	174
	Theories of voluntary organisations	176
	Pluralism	176
	Marxist/elitist theory	176
	Social capital and civil society theory	177
	Summary	178
	Further reading	179
	Projects	180
10	The mass media	181
	The mass media and democracy	182
	Regulating the media	184
	The public service model	184
	The market model	186
	Ownership and control	189
	The impact of the new media technology: globalisation and E-politics	192
	Theories of the mass media	195
	Summary	198
	Further reading	198
	Projects	199
11	Voters and elections	200
	Elections	202
	Democratic elections	202
	Voting systems	205
	Voting turnout	206
	Declining turnout?	206
	Determinants of election turnout	207
	System variables	207
	Individual characteristics	209
	Party voting	209
	Stratification and class voting	209
	Religious voting	211

	Other voting patterns	212
	New party voting patterns	213
	Tradition and change in Mexico	214
	Theories of voting	215
	Sociological approaches: the Columbia school	215
	Psychological approaches: the Michigan school	217
	Rational choice	217
	Summary	219
	Further reading	219
	Projects	220
12	Party government	221
	Party organisation	222
	New parties and movements	223
	Party systems and party families	224
	Party families	224
	Party systems	225
	One-party and coalition government	227
	Coalition government	229
	Coalitions and government effectiveness	231
	Theories of parties	232
	The 'iron law of oligarchy'	232
	Duverger's law	233
	Coalition theory	234
	Majoritarian and consensus government revisited	235
	Summary	237
	Further reading	237
	Projects	238
PART IV	Policies and performance	239
13	Political ideologies: conservatism, liberalism, Christian democracy and socialism	241
	The nature of ideology	242
	Six democratic ideologies	244
	Conservatism	244
	Social and political affairs	244
	Economics	245
	Liberalism	245
	Limited state power	247
	Parliamentary government and the division of powers	247
	Optimistic view of human nature	248
	Slow reform by individual action	248
	Free trade	248
	Christian democracy	249
	Natural law	249

	Family, church, community	249
	Subsidiarity	249
	Protection of the weak and poor	251
	Harmony, integration, consultation	251
	Socialism and social democracy	251
	Optimistic view of human nature	251
	Equality of opportunity	251
	Participatory democracy	253
	Mixed economy	253
	Peaceful reform	253
	Nationalism	253
	Ethno-nationalism and territory	254
	National independence	254
	Green political thought	255
	Sustainable development	255
	Decentralisation	255
	Direct participation and democracy	256
	Theories of ideology	256
	Marxist and neo-Marxist theories	256
	Marxist theory	256
	Neo-Marxist theory	257
	Material and non-material interests	258
	The end of ideology and the end of history	259
	Summary	260
	Further reading	260
	Projects	261
14	Decision making	263
	Public policies: their nature and importance	264
	Goals and results	264
	The nature of policy making processes	265
	Constraints	265
	Policy processes	265
	Unending policy cycles	266
	The public policy cycle	266
	Agenda setting	267
	Decision making	270
	Choice of means	271
	Implementation	271
	Outputs and outcomes	272
	Evaluation and feedback	272
	Public policy structures	273
	Corporatism	274
	Pluralism	277
	Tri-partite arrangements	278

	Policy communities	278
	Policy networks	279
	Theories of decision making	279
	The rational-comprehensive model	279
	The incremental model	281
	' Muddling through '	281
	Bounded rationality and advocacy coalitions	282
	Summary	282
	Further reading	283
	Projects	283
15	Defence and security	284
	The state and security	285
	Defence and national security	286
	Conflict resolution	286
	Just wars	288
	Military expenditure	289
	Internal law and order	291
	Law enforcement	292
	Crime, punishment and prevention	293
	Other forms of protection	295
	Information	296
	Certification	296
	Permission	296
	Product safety	296
	The limitations of state security	297
	Terrorism	297
	International crime	298
	Corruption	298
	The limits of state power	299
	Theories of security and conflict	299
	The origins of conflict	300
	Realism and idealism	301
	Policy communities	301
	The military-industrial complex	302
	Summary	303
	Further reading	303
	Projects	305
16	Welfare	306
	Welfare states and redistribution	307
	Social security	309
	Social security and social expenditure	309
	Comparing social security systems	311
	The level of social expenditure	312

The composition of social expenditure	313
Trends in social expenditure	315
Pensions and health programmes	316
Pensions	317
Health	318
Social security and taxation	320
Theories of the welfare state	322
Conflict-oriented approaches	323
Functionalist explanations	323
Institutional approaches	325
International and transnational dependencies	325
Summary	326
Further reading	327
Projects	328
17 The future of the democratic state	329
States and sovereignty	330
Conventional states, proto-states and supra-national states	331
Conventional states	331
Proto-states	331
Supra-national states	332
Challenges to the state	333
Concentration of commercial power	333
Rise of international NGOs	333
Globalisation	335
Changing nature of conflicts	335
Importance of international organisations	335
The retreat of the state?	336
Democracy without borders	338
The quality of democracy	338
Reform of state and government	339
The future	342
Summary	343
Further reading	344
Projects	345
Glossary of key terms	346
Index of names	363
Index of subjects	366