

Globalisation, Regionalism and Economic Interdependence

Edited by

Filippo di Mauro,

Stephane Dees

and

Warwick J. McKibbin

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

List of figures	page-	vi
List of tables		viii
List of contributors		x
Preface		xiii
Introduction
Stephane Dees, Filippo di Mauro and Warwick J. McKibbin		1
1 International linkages; in the context of global and regional integration
Stephane Dees, Filippo di Mauro and Warwick J. McKibbin		5
2 Trade integration of the central and eastern European countries and China: has it reached potential?
Matthieu Bussiere and Bernd Schnatz		22
3 Patterns and determinants of production fragmentation in world manufacturing trade
Prema-chandra Athukorala and Nobuaki Yamashita		45
4 Going global: trade > internationalisation of production and domestic performance of euro area firms
Ingo Geishecker, Holger Gorg and Daria Taglibni		73
5 Globalisation and the trade channel in the euro area
Robert Anderton and Filippo di Mauro		102
6 Gauging the labour market effects of international trade openness: an application to the US manufacturing sector
Isabel Vansteenkiste and Paul Hiebert		126
Index		160