

Islands in a Far Sea

Nature and Man in Hawaii

John L. Culliney

SIERRA CLUB BOOKS

SAN FRANCISCO

Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgments	xiii
PART ONE ISLAND EVOLUTION: A HAWAIIAN PRIMER	1
1 Out of the Earth	3
2 From the Forces of Life	27
3 Arrival and Adaptations	39
PART TWO THE SURROUNDING SEA	57
4 Blue Abyss and Twilight Slopes	59
5 A Place for Whales	75
6 The Coral Rim	87
7 Decline of a Lagoon	109
8 The Seal and the Turtle	118
9 Seabirds High and Low	134
PART THREE SHORES OF MANY MOODS	153
10 Lonely Rocks and Atolls	155
11 Coasts of Change	170
PART FOUR GREEN CRAGS AND CANYONS	191
12 Rain Forests in Transition	193
13 Fresh Waters	215
14 Dying Songs: Hawaii's Forest Birds	237
15 Insects and Snails: Evolutionary Tales	262

PART FIVE VOLCANOES IN THE SKY	281
16 Cloudlands and Drylands	283
17 Alpine Fire and Ice	302
PART SIX THE FATE OF THE LIVING LAND	311
18 Hawaii Before Man	313
19 Aina and Ahupuaa	321
20 The Remaking of Eden	333
21 The Wave of the Future	352
Notes	369
Supplementary Sources for Illustrations	393
Index	395