

SOCIAL ECONOMICS: RETROSPECT AND PROSPECT

edited by
Mark A. Lutz
University of Maine

Kluwer Academic Publishers
Boston/Dordrecht/London

CONTENTS

Preface	ix
PART I: SOCIAL ECONOMICS IN HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE
1. Thomas O. Nitsch - Social Economics: The First 200 Years	5
2. William R. Waters - Evolution of Social Economics in America	91
PART II: THE FABRIC OF CONTEMPORARY SOCIAL ECONOMICS
A. The Three Traditional Strands
3. Edward J. O'Boyle - Catholic Social Economics: A Response to Certain Problems, Errors, and Abuses of the Modern Age	121
Comments
E. K. Hunt	145
Lewis E. Hill	149
4. Lewis E. Hill - The Institutional Approach to Social Economics	155
Comments
Edward J. O'Boyle	175
E. K. Hunt	181
5. E. K. Hunt - Social Economics: A Socialist Perspective	183
Comments
Edward J. O'Boyle	209
Lewis E. Hill	215

B. Recognizing Another Strand

6. Amitai Etzioni - Toward a Deontological Socioeconomics 221

7. Mark A. Lutz - Social Economics in the Humanistic Tradition 235

C. A Comparative Evaluation

8. Warren J. Samuels - Four Strands of Social Economics: A Comparative Interpretation 269

PART III: BASIC APPLICATIONS OF SOCIAL ECONOMICS

9. J. Ron Stanfield - Understanding the Welfare State:
The Significance of Social Economics 313

10. William M. Dugger - Problems of the Welfare State 335

11. David P. Ellerman - The Corporation as a Democratic Social Institution 365

PART IV: CONCLUSION: THE PROSPECT FOR SOCIAL ECONOMICS

12. Malcolm Rutherford - Science, Self-Correction and Values:
From Peirce to Institutionalism 391

13. Mark A. Lutz - An Essay on the Nature and Significance of Social Economics 407