

COMRADES, CLIENTS AND COUSINS

Colonialism, Socialism and Democratization
in São Tomé and Príncipe

GERHARD SEIBERT

Research School of Asian, African and Amerindian Studies (CNWS)
Leiden University
Leiden, The Netherlands
1999

CONTENTS

LIST OF PLATES AND FIGURES	vi
ABBREVIATIONS	vii
PREFACE	xii
INTRODUCTION	1
The objective	1
Caribbean contours in an African environment	3
Historic background	6
The theoretical and political context	7
Relevant concepts	10
Local patterns of multiparty politics	12
The chapters	14
Research methods and sources	15
CHAPTER 1
FORMATION AND RECOLONIZATION OF AN AFRICAN CREOLE SOCIETY
Introduction	17
The formation of the creole society	17
Settlement and slavery	18
The sugar plantations	21
External threat and economic decline	24
The Catholic mission	25
Institutional and political conflicts	27
Slave revolts and escape	29
The creolization process	30
The second colonization	32
The rise and fall of cocoa	36
From slave to serviçal	37
The recolonization of the church	40
The indentured labour system	41
External and internal responses to the labour system	42
The forros ' aversion to field labour	45
The stratification system	46
Conclusions	48

CHAPTER 2

FROM THE ORIGINS OF FORRO NATIONALISM TO INDEPENDENCE

Introduction	50
Political activities in the early 20th century	50
The Massacre of February 1953	55
The causes of the massacre and the number of victims	72
São Tomé's few nationalists: exiled, dispersed and fragmented	75
The Decolonization Process	86
Conclusions	99

CHAPTER 3

THE SOCIALIST ONE-PARTY REGIME

Introduction	102
The construction of the socialist state	102
The establishment of the security apparatus	107
The administrative system and the party structure	108
Social and education policies	110
The foreign policy options	112
The constitutional framework	115
The competition for power	117
Alleged coups and invasion threats	119
The census riots and Trovoada's imprisonment	122
Pinto da Costa's autocracy	126
The emergence of the exile opposition	129
The performance of the state-owned economy	131
The plantation economy	133
The structure of the state-owned plantations	135
The failed diversification of the economy	141
The party's ideological trajectory	144
Conclusions	149

CHAPTER 4

POLITICAL TRANSITION AND ECONOMIC REFORM

Introduction	153
Initial political change	153
Political instability and invasion	156
The economic liberalization	159
Corruption scandals	164
The renovation of the state party	166
The transition process	173
The emergence of political parties	177
The democratic elections	183
Cocoa rehabilitation under structural adjustment	188
Conclusion	191

CHAPTER 5

GOVERNANCE, CONFLICT AND PUBLIC PROPERTY UNDER THE DEMOCRATIC SYSTEM

Introduction	193
End of a tactical alliance	194
Continuous conflict and final break	200
The MLSTP returns to power	211
The military coup	214
The background	216
The course of the events	221
The aftermath of the coup	224
Continuous political instability	225
The initial anti-corruption drive	229
Increasing transparency and corruption scandals	231
The importance of external funds	233
The routine of corruption	236
The impunity of corruption	238
Factors in favour of corruption	240
Conclusions	242

CHAPTER 6

STRUCTURAL ADJUSTMENT AND ECONOMIC PERFORMANCE UNDER DEMOCRATIC RULE

Introduction	246
The difficult relationship with the Bretton Woods institutions	248
Overambitious goals and poor performance	251
Administrative reform	259
The financial sector reform	264
The privatization of agriculture	268
Manufacture and services	280
Unmanageable debts and inefficient foreign assistance	288
Conclusions	290

CHAPTER 7

POLITICAL PLURALISM AND COMPETITIVE ELECTIONS

Introduction	291
The local elections of December 1992	291
The early legislative elections of October 1994	293
PCD pôs o país de pé (PCD has put the country on its feet)	296
Acreditar em S.Tomé e Príncipe (Believing in São Tomé and Príncipe)	301
The local patron as candidate	304
Renovar a mudança (Renew the change)	307
O partido que fala a verdade (The party that tells the truth)	310
Voto de confiança (Vote of confidence)	313
Election results	314
Multipartyism: characteristics and conditions	316
Conclusions	324

CHAPTER 8

PARTY TRAJECTORIES AND PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS

Introduction	327
The political parties: MLSTP/PSD	327
The parties of political change: PCD-GR and ADI	329
The three small parties: CODO, FDC and AP	334
The 1996 presidential elections: the prelude	338
The first round	344
The voting and the aftermath	352
The final ballot	357
Conclusions	363

CHAPTER 9

LOCAL DIMENSIONS OF POLITICS: KINSHIP, RUMOURS AND PAMPHLETS

Introduction	366
The impact of kinship	367
Kinship and conjugal unions types	368
The current customary union	374
The visiting union	375
Patterns of polygyny	376
Women and mothers	378
Family life in an urban neighbourhood	382
Kinship and politics	386
Rumours and anonymous pamphlets	389
The characteristics of rumours	391
Rumours and Rádio BB	393
Anonymous pamphlets	396
Conclusions	402

CONCLUSIONS	404
-------------	-----

BIBLIOGRAPHY	415
--------------	-----

APPENDICES

Appendix 1 Presidents and government ministers	437
Appendix 2 Executive committees of liberation movements and parties	447
Appendix 3 Election Results	452
Appendix 4 Basic Economic Data 1988-1997	455

LIST OF PLATES AND FIGURES

Map of São Tomé and Príncipe	xiv
1. Typical wooden house on stilts in São Tomé	22
2. Fort São Sebastião built in the 16th century	28
3. Landscape in the south of São Tomé island	34
4. Armed white volunteers in the barracks of the C.P.I., February 1953	63
5. Interrogation of prisoner sitting in an electric chair, February 1953	66
6. Decoration of Zé Mulato and others, February 1953	68
7. Victim of the Massacre of February 1953	70
8. Volunteers construct the seat of the Cívica, August 1974	89
9. Filinto Costa Alegre of the Cívica addresses demonstrators	90
10. Inauguration of Gástaio Torres as minister of justice & labour	96
11. Manuel Pinto da Costa addresses a crowd, March 1975	101
12. First National Meeting of the OPSTEP	106
13. First Extraordinary Assembly of the JMLSTP, June 1983	128
14. Harvested cocoa waiting for transport	135
15. Campaign poster of Miguel Trovoada, February 1991	187
16. Workers' barracks on the Uba-Budo estate, 1993	273
17. Carlos Graça (MLSTP/PSD) during the 1994 election campaign	302
18. Campaign manifestation of the ADI, September 1994	309
19. Alda Bandeira (PCD-GR) in the National Assembly, 1995	318
20. Manuel Pinto da Costa announces his candidature, January 1996	341
21. Miguel Trovoada during the 1996 presidential elections	359
22. Cartoon of polygynous state functionary	377
Figure 1 Area and workforce of the 15 agricultural state enterprises	270