

Discourse analysis and evaluation: functional approaches

Edited by

Leo Lentz and
Henk Pander Maat

Amsterdam - Atlanta, GA 1997

Introduction Paul van den Hoven	1
Context, meaning, and interpretation, in a practical approach to linguistics Arie Verhagen	7
The role of conversation analysis in functional linguistic research Hanneke Houtkoop-Steenstra	41
The role of ethnography in the analysis of institutional discourse Tom Koole	59
The history of opening sequences in Dutch telephone conversations Leo Lentz	87
What authors and readers do with side effects information on drugs Henk Pander Maat	111
Contextual parameters in the evaluation of persuasive texts: A cognitive processing approach Hans Hoeken	139
Functional evaluation of public information about laws and regulations Peter Jan Schellens, Menno de Jong, Madelon Witteveen	157