Power in the Party

The Organization of Power and Central-Republican Relations in the CPSU

Graeme Gill

Professor Department of Government University of Sydney Australia

and

Roderic Pitty

Lecturer
Department of Government
University of Sydney
Australia

Contents

<ol> <li>What Sort of Organisation was the Communist Party?</li> <li>Campaigning for Reform</li> <li>Variants of Republican Autonomy</li> <li>Radicalism During the 1980s</li> <li>Why this Pattern?</li> </ol>	Preface Glossary and Abbreviations		vi
Party?  2. Campaigning for Reform  3. Variants of Republican Autonomy  4. Radicalism During the 1980s  5. Why this Pattern?  6. The Pattern of Power  Conclusion: The Weakness of Infrastructural Power  Notes  Select Bibliography  2.1			viii
3. Variants of Republican Autonomy 4. Radicalism During the 1980s 5. Why this Pattern? 6. The Pattern of Power Conclusion: The Weakness of Infrastructural Power Notes Select Bibliography 21	1.	•	1
4. Radicalism During the 1980s  5. Why this Pattern?  6. The Pattern of Power  Conclusion: The Weakness of Infrastructural Power  Notes  Select Bibliography	2.	Campaigning for Reform	23
5. Why this Pattern? 10 6. The Pattern of Power 12 Conclusion: The Weakness of Infrastructural Power 15 Notes 16 Select Bibliography 21	3.	Variants of Republican Autonomy	45
6. The Pattern of Power  Conclusion: The Weakness of Infrastructural Power  Notes  Select Bibliography  21	4.	Radicalism During the 1980s	72
Conclusion: The Weakness of Infrastructural Power  Notes  Select Bibliography  21	5.	Why this Pattern?	101
Notes 18 Select Bibliography 21	6.	The Pattern of Power	149
Select Bibliography 21	Со	Conclusion: The Weakness of Infrastructural Power
· · ·	No	Notes
Index 21	Sel	Select Bibliography
	Inc	Index		