

THE RIGHT-WING PRESS
IN THE FRENCH
REVOLUTION: 1789-92

William James Murray

Published by The Boydell Press
for The Royal Historical Society
1986

CONTENTS

	Page
Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction	1
THE FIRST YEAR OF PRESS FREEDOM
1 The Creation of an Opposition Press	10
2 The Journalists and their Newspapers	30
3 The Press in 1790: The Business of Opposition	67
4 Freedom of the Press in 1790	89
THE ATTACK ON THE REVOLUTION: CAMPAIGNS AND REACTIONS
5 The First Campaigns	105
6 The Great Divide: the King and the Constitution	122
7 War and Counter-Revolution	140
8 The Divisions in the Right	158
9 A Second Revolution	174
10 Epilogue – August 10 and After	192
THE RIGHT-WING JOURNALISTS AND THE REVOLUTION: MENTALITÉ
11 The Campaigns of the Satirical Press	213
12 The Polemics of the Information Press	231
13 Ideology: The Critique of Idealism	239
14 Ideology: Explaining the Revolution	252
Appendices:
A Venality	266
B Documents	276
C Map	289
D Tables	291

Bibliography	314
General Index	327
Index of Persons	333
Index of Newspapers	342