

THE ADVENT OF MODERN
CAPITALISM IN FRANCE,
1770–1840

The Contribution of
Pierre-François Tubeuf

GWYNNE LEWIS

CLARENDON PRESS · OXFORD

1993

CONTENTS

LIST OF MAPS	X
LIST OF FIGURES	X
LIST OF TABLES	XI
LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS	XII
Introduction: The Basses-Cévennes in the Mid-Eighteenth Century	1-17
1. Pierre-François Tubeuf and the Foundations of a Modern Coal-Mining Industry	18-54
2. The Maréchal de Castries: Aristocrats and Protoindustrializers	55-114
3. The Impact of a Revolutionary Crisis	115-163
4. Revolution, Recession, and the Rights of Property-Owners	164-211
5. The Return of the Tubeufs: An Abortive 'Take-Off'	212-251
6. The Bourbon Restoration: 'Plus ça change . . .'	252-288
Conclusion: 1830: The Take-off	289-318
BIBLIOGRAPHY	319-331
INDEX	333-339

MAPS

1.1	The Cévennes region of south-eastern France	2
1.1	The coal-mines of the Alès basin in the late eighteenth century	30
1.2	The coal-mines of the Alès basin in 1946	32
4.1	Administrative boundaries of the Cévennes region	166

FIGURES

2.1(a)	The price of Grand-Combè large coal sold in Alès, 1771–1789	93
2.1(b)	The price of large coal sold by Tubeuf in Alès, 1771–1789	93
4.1	Production in the Alès coal-basin, 1780–1798	195
4.2	Production in the Alès coal-basin, 1799–1817	204
5.1	Ships entering Beaucaire, 1802–1815	221
C.1	Production in the Alès coal-basin, 1814–1850	311