

Balkan as Metaphor Between Globalization and Fragmentation

Edited by
Dusan I. Bjelic and Obrad Savic

In association with the exhibition

In Search of Balkania

Curated by Roger Conover, Eda Cufer, and Peter Weibel

Neue Galerie am Landesmuseum Joanneum
Graz, Austria

The MIT Press
Cambridge, Massachusetts
London, England

Contents

Foreword ix

Michael Herzfeld

Acknowledgments xiii

Introduction: Blowing Up the "Bridge" 1

Dusan I. Bjelic

Part I: Orientalism, Balkanism, and Occidentalism 23

1 Invention and In(ter)vention: The Rhetoric of Balkanization 25

Vesna Goldsworthy

2 Vampires Like Us: Gothic Imaginary and "the serbs" 39

Tomislav Z. Longinovic

3 What's So Byzantine About the Balkans? 61

Milica Bakic-Hayden

4 The Balkans as an Element in Ideological Mechanisms 79

Rastko Mocnik

5 Carl Schmitt on Kosovo, or, Taking War Seriously 117

Grigoris Ananiadis

Part II: Balkan Identity and Nationality 163

6 The Dark Intimacy: Maps, Identities, Acts of Identifications 165

Alexander Kiossev

7 South Slav Identity and the Ultimate War-Reality 191

Ugo Vlaisavljevic

8 The Impossible Escape: Romanians and the Balkans 209

Adrian Cioroianu

9 The Eros of Identity     235

Ivaylo Ditchchev

Part III: Sexuality, Trauma, and Myth     251

10 Queer Serbs     253

Branka Arsic

11 Sexualizing the Serb     279

Dusan I. Bjelic and Lucinda Cole

12 Muslim Women, Croatian Women, Serbian Women, Albanian Women...     311

Vesna Kesic

13 Hypnosis and Critique (Film Music for the Balkans)     323

Stathis Gourgouris

14 Simonides on the Balkans     351

Petar Ramadanovic

List of Contributors     365

Index     369