

Dereje Alemayehu

The Crisis of Capitalist Development in Africa

The Case of Cote d'Ivoire

LIT

Table of contents

Acknowledgments	i
Acronyms and abbreviations	ii
A general introduction	1
1. Development - an elusive concept and an illusive goal	1
2. Theoretical and methodological orientation of the study	5
3. A brief outline of the study	8

PART ONE

Development Economics and Problems of Development

Chapter 1: Theoretical postulates and policy recommendations of mainstream development economics

Introduction	16
1.1. Theoretical premises of early development economics	17
1.2. Development policy postulates of some "pioneer" development economists	19
1.2.1. Arthur Lewis	19
1.2.2. Rostow	19
1.2.3. Hirschman	25

Chapter 2: The neo-classical resurgence

Introduction	28
2.1. The neo-classical model	28
2.2. Situations that favored the neo-classical resurgence	30
2.3. Neo-classical criticism of the post-Second World War development policy	31
2.3.1. State versus market	32
2.3.2. International trade	37
2.4. The experience of the NICs	40

Chapter 3: The current development discourse

Introduction	42
3.1. The contribution of the "l'ecole de la regulation"	44
3.1.1. The analysis of Lipietz	44
3.1.2. Ominami's interpretation of the crisis in the Third World	49
3.2. The world market as framework of development strategies	52
3.3. The sustainable development approach	54

PART TWO

The Debate on the Blockages to Capitalist Development in Africa

Chapter 1: The "African mode of production" and colonialism

- | | |
|---|----|
| 1.1. Pre-colonial structures as blockages to capitalist development | 62 |
| 1.2. Colonialism and the articulation of modes of production | 66 |
| 1.3. The recent debate on the impact of colonialism | 69 |

Chapter 2: The blockages to capitalist development in Africa from the perspective of the dependency approach

- | | |
|---|----|
| Introduction | 73 |
| 2.1. Samir Amin's application of the dependency approach to the analysis of Africa's development problems | 74 |
| 2.2. Amin on the maldevelopment in Africa | 77 |
| 2.3. Some criticisms of the dependency approach | 79 |

Chapter 3: Blockages to capitalist development in the post-independence period

- | | |
|--|----|
| Introduction | 82 |
| 3.1. Elsenhans on the "state-classes" in the Third World as arbiters on development and underdevelopment | 83 |
| 3.2. Bates on the agrarian policy of African states as a blockage to capitalist development | 84 |
| 3.3. Hyden on African peasants: are they causes for capitalist underdevelopment? | 88 |
| 3.4. Mahieu on the traditional community as a blockage to capitalist development | 95 |

PART THREE

The Case of The Cote d'Ivoire

- | | |
|---|-----|
| Introduction: The Ivorian development experience: From miracle to debacle | 100 |
|---|-----|

Chapter 1: A historical overview

- | | |
|---|-----|
| 1.1. The colonial conquest | 101 |
| 1.2.1. The administrative policy of colonialism | 104 |
| 1.2.2. The economic policy under colonialism | 105 |
| 1.3. The road to independence | 109 |

Chapter 2: The Ivorian socio-economic development after independence (1960-1980)

Introduction	114
2.1. The Ivorian development model	114
2.2. The overall performance of the economy during the " miracle ivoirien "	117
2.2.1. The agricultural development	119
2.2.2. Social-structural changes in the agricultural sector	124
2.2.3. Industrial development	125
2.3. The role of the Ivorian state in development	129
2.3.1. The economic role of the state	129
2.3.2. The role of the state in socio-political regulation	132
2.3.3. Patrimonial state?	137

Chapter 3: The crisis of the Ivorian development model (1981-1993)

Introduction	142
3.1. The crisis of the Ivorian development model	143
3.1.1. The structural roots of the crisis	143
3.1.2. The structural roots of the crisis in agricultural development	144
3.1.3. The structural roots of the crisis in industrial development	146
3.2. The system of political regulation as a cause of the Ivorian crisis	150
3.3. Immediate causes of the crisis	153
3.3.1. The foreign debt crisis and the international environment	153
3.3.2. Mismanagement in the economy as one immediate cause of the crisis	155
3.4. The World Bank's interpretation of the crisis	156

Chapter 4: Cote d'Ivoire under the SAPs (1981-1983)

Introduction	159
4.1. The content and declared policy goals of the SAPs	160
4.2. The successive SAPs and their implementation	161
4.2.1. SAP I	162
4.2.2. SAP II	163
4.2.3. SAP III	165
4.2.4. SAP IV	166
4.3 The impact of the SAPs on the overall performance of the economy	167
4.3.1. The agricultural sector under the SAPs	169
4.3.2. The industrial sector under the SAPs	171
4.3.3. Foreign debt and foreign trade under the SAPs	174
4.4. The Zone Franc (ZF), an overvalued currency (FCFA) and the problems of devaluation	176
4.4.1. The functioning of the ZF	176
4.4.2. Overvalued CFA and the pros and cons of devaluation	180
4.5. The socio-political consequences of the SAPs	185
4.6. Concluding remarks	191

