

AUSTRIAN MINISTRY FOR ECONOMIC AFFAIRS AND LABOUR
ECONOMIC POLICY CENTER

STRUCTURAL REFORMS IN THE CANDIDATE COUNTRIES AND THE EUROPEAN UNION

EDITED BY HEINZ HANDLER

VIENNA, JULY 2003

CONTENTS

Preface	1
Conference Contributions	1
Key Messages on the Lisbon Strategy and the Integration of the Acceding States into the Community's Economic Policy Co-ordination Processes
Heinz Handler and Heinz Scherrer	4
Structural Reform Needs in the Candidate Countries
Willem Buiter	14
The CEECs in an Enlarged Europe: Patterns of Structural Change and Catching-up
Michael A. Landesmann	28
1. Introduction	28
2. Macroeconomic catching-up and broad patterns of structural change	31
3. Convergence and divergence in manufacturing structure	38
4. Productivity, wage rates and unit labour costs	48
4.1. Productivity	54
4.2. Wage rates	55
4.3. Unit labour costs	55
5. Trade performance and trade specialization	57
5.1. Current accounts: structures and developments	57
5.2. Trade specialization in manufacturing	60
6. The allocation of foreign direct investment across branches	69
7. The role of educational attainment and labour market developments with regard to different skill groups	73

II	Contents
8. Summary	78
9. References	80
10. Appendix	85
Differences and Similarities Between CCs and the EU - a CC Perspective
András Inotai	88
Kick-off Papers	105
The Context for Reform: The Preconditions for Sustainable Growth and the Convergence Challenges
Matthew Salter	106
1. Overview	106
2. General economic context, and the challenge of real convergence	108
3. Structural challenges	114
Real Exchange Rate Developments in the Accession Countries
Peter Part	120
1. Introduction	120
2. Recent real exchange rate developments	121
2.1. (Real) exchange rate developments and exchange rate regimes	121
2.2. Inflation developments: the Balassa-Samuelson effect and impacts related to the transition to market economies	126
2.3. (Unit) labour cost developments and real exchange rate appreciation	129
2.4. Capital flows and current account sustainability	131
3. Conclusions	132
4. References	133

Assessment of Product Markets in the Candidate Countries

Lars Östling	134
1. Introduction	134
2. General economic background	135
3. Productivity and the structure of the economy	142
4. Economic integration	149
5. Business environment	156
6. Foster a knowledge-based economy	159
7. Reform priorities in the Candidate Countries	162
8. Summary	165
9. References	165

Agriculture in Candidate Countries

Christophe Blanc	168
--------------------------------	-----

Financial Sectors in EU Acceding Countries -
Stylized Facts and Challenges

Reiner Martin, Giacomo Caviglia and Christian Fehlker	176
1. Introduction	176
2. Key features of AC financial sectors affecting efficiency	180
3. Integration of AC financial sectors	184

Labour Markets, Labour Market Policies and Challenges in the Candidate Countries

Christina Burger	189
1. Introduction	189
1.1. Evolution of labour market challenges in the transition period	189
1.2. EU-requirements concerning the labour market	191
1.3. Where do they stand and where are they going: the Lisbon strategy	193

2. Key issues in employment policy	199
2.1. Tax-benefit-systems	200
2.2. Wage bargaining systems	210
2.3. Labour market regulation	220
2.3.1. Employment protection legislation	220
2.3.2. Working time	225
2.3.3. Self employment	229
2.3.4. Female labour participation and employment rates	230
2.4. Education and skills	231
2.4.1. School education	232
2.4.2. Skills	236
2.4.3. Active labour market policy	237
3. Conclusions and Summary	240
4. References	240
5. Annex: Determination of wages	245

The Quality of Public Finances in the Acceding Countries

Kari Varis and Lauri Taro	250
1. Introduction	250
2. The structure of public finances	252
3. Macro-economic stability of public finance	257
4. Preliminary findings	259
5. References	261

Demographic Outlook and Pension Reform Challenges in the Accession Countries

Micheline Lambrecht, Felix Lowinski, Dominique Simonis, Patrick van Brusselen	262
1. Aim	262
2. The demographic outlook	263
3. Macroeconomic context	266
3.1. Growth performance	266

3.2. Breakdown of growth into its various components	272
3.3. Recent growth performance	276
3.4. Labour markets: participation and employment rates	278
3.5. Economic dependency ratios	281
4. Main characteristics of pension systems	284
5. Medium to long-term growth prospects and implications with respect to the sustainability of public pension schemes	289
6. Conclusions	291
7. Annex	295

Education and Training in Acceding Countries

Ana Martinez and Esther Gordo	309
1. Challenges for Education and Training Systems in the EU:
The Lisbon Targets	309
2. The Economics of Education	310
2.1. Policy implications	311
3. Education in Candidate Countries	313
3.1. Overview	313
3.2. Resources allocated to education: Public expenditure on education	315
3.3. Structural issues	318
3.4. Output and Quality of Educational systems	319
3.4.1. Educational attainment	319
3.4.2. Participation at Education	327
4. Conclusions	337
5. References	338

R&D and Innovation

Helge Sigurd Naess-Schmidt	341
1. Well educated work force	343
2. Entrepreneurship	346
3. Fierce competition	347
4. Financial sector conditions	347

5. Macro stability	348
6. Infrastructure of research networks and co-operation between private and public sector	349
7. Broad brush indicators of innovation	350

EPC-Report	355
-------------------	-----

Key Structural Challenges in the Acceding Countries: The Integration of the Acceding Countries into the Community's Economic Policy Co-ordination Processes

Economic Policy Committee	356
Preface	356
Key Messages	358
1. The context for meeting the strategic Lisbon goal	366
2. Labour market reforms	375
3. Product markets	380
4. Financial market reforms	386
5. Improving the quality and sustainability of public finance	390
6. Fostering the knowledge-based economy	402
7. Environmental and social sustainability	411
8. Implications for the Lisbon strategy and integration of the acceding countries into EU structural reform processes	413
9. Annex	421
10. References	426
11. Members of the EPC Working Group on Enlargement	429

Contents	VII
Appendix	431
Authors	432
List of Abbreviations	434
Index	437
Publications by the Economic Policy Center	445