

Communication Skills

Stepladders to success for the professional

Richard Ellis

intellect™
Bristol, UK
Portland, OR, USA

Contents

1	Introduction	1
	Getting up the stepladder; Careers, Professional competence; Reflective learning; Communicative competence; The reflective practitioner & the learning organisation.
2	Skills development	7
	Motivation to learn; Key factors in learning; Skills acquisition; Using this book.
3	Interpersonal skills	11
4	Your audience	13
	Information you need prior to communicating; Post-communication feedback.
5	Listening and interviewing	16
	Active listening; Barriers to active listening; Enhancing our listening; Asking questions to improve our listening; Making use of behaviour questions; Summary: 3 key aspects of listening to remember.
6	Being interviewed	26
	Why interview?; Preparation before interviewing; The phone call for the interview; Your CV/application form; Before that interview; At the interview; After the interview.
7	That favourite — the telephone!	40
	Factors in successful telephoning; Time management and telephoning; Feedback on your telephone skills.
8	Assertiveness	44
	A balancing act; Examples of assertiveness; Assertiveness and communication; Training ourselves to communicate more assertively; Assertiveness and handling conflict; Transactional analysis (TA); TA and giving/receiving criticism; Other applications of TA.
9	Negotiation	57
	TA applied to negotiating; Stages of negotiation; Negotiation and problem solving; Linkage in negotiation.

10	Communication in groups	62
	Stages groups go through; Roles we may play in groups; Other theories on groups and their effect on how we may communicate.
11	Communicating in and out of the Chair	69
	Key questions to ask before a meeting; Auditing your meetings; Ways in which participants can assist meetings; Some key skills in chairing meetings; Taking minutes in meetings.
12	Communicating on your feet	81
	The invitation to give a presentation; Analysing and clarifying your remit; Detailed preparation (notes for your talk); Coping with nerves; Delivery skills Using visual aids appropriately; Handling questions; After the presentation.
13	The ingredients of effective writing	100
	Being concise; Being clear; Being readable; Finding the right tone; Being consistent; Being relevant; Finding a suitable structure; The appropriate use of graphics; Finding the appropriate register; Finding the right language; Getting the nuts and bolts right.
14	The process of writing	122
	Your readers; The questions you need to ask and have answered; The actual writing process; Going for it; Editing and proofing; Checking and checking.
15	Specific types of writing	130
	Reports; Letters and memos; Writing for publications.
16	Creativity in your communication	151
	Strategies: Ways of getting out of holes; Examples of escape; Inertia in our communication; Different kinds of thinking and how these can assist our communication.
17	Keeping up the progress	157
	10 ways to keep up progress; 10 questions to remind you about communication; Final checklist.	