

Islam and the Moral Economy

The Challenge of Capitalism

Charles Tripp

University of London

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Acknowledgements	page viii
Glossary	ix
Introduction	1
1 The 'social problem'	13
1.1 Discovering society	15
1.2 Property and social power	22
1.3 Education to restore the moral economy	32
2 Islamic social critics	46
2.1 Social solidarity	51
2.2 Property and its social function	56
2.3 The problem of money	64
2.4 Mculahah - society's interests	68
3 Islamic socialism	77
3.1 Islamic socialism and state development	80
3.2 Social harmony and the moral economy	92
3.3 Identifying Islamic sociability	97
4 Islamic economics and Islamic banks	103
4.1 Economics and Islamic economics	105
4.2 Development and efficiency	113
4.3 Social welfare and individual interest	119
4.4 Zakat and riba : instruments of the moral economy	124
4.5 Islamic banks: the argument for Islamic agency	133
5 Repertoires of resistance: Islamic anti-capitalism	150
5.1 Sayyid Qutb and Ali Shari'ati: the power of subjectivity	152
5.2 The 'guarded sphere': gender and action	167
5.3 Violence and meaning	180
Conclusion	194
Bibliography	202
Index	225