

Debt Management and Government Securities Markets in the 21st Century

OECD

ORGANISATION FOR ECONOMIC CO-OPERATION AND DEVELOPMENT

Table of Contents

Chapter I

Overview of Trends and Recent Changes in the Structure of OECD Public Debt Markets and Debt Management Operations

I. Introduction	9
II. The development of liquid public debt markets in the OECD area	9
III. Trends in North American debt markets	16
IV. The emergence of a pan-European public debt market	19
V. Trends and recent developments in the Asian-Pacific public debt markets	29
VI. Trends in emerging bond markets	31
VII. Policy issues during periods of reduced net borrowing requirements and declining public debt	34
VIII. The growing importance of electronic systems in primary and secondary markets	37
IX. Trends in the organisation of debt management offices	40
X. The use of derivatives by debt managers and market participants	42
XI. Policy conclusions	44
Notes	48

Chapter 2

Overview of Policy Objectives and Characteristics of Public Debt and Debt Holdings

I. Introduction	51
II. Policy objectives of debt managers	51
III. Overview of the characteristics of public debt	53
IV. Overview of debt instruments	54
V. The use of financial derivatives by debt managers	56
VI. Duration and maturity of the domestic debt	56
VII. Information on resident and non-resident holdings	59

Chapter 3

Experience with Index-linked Bonds in OECD Countries

I. Executive summary	61
II. Overview	61
III. Responses to individual questions	62
Annex: Questionnaire – Experience with Government Indexed Bonds	70

Chapter 4

Electronic Issuance and the Future of Primary Dealer Systems

I. Introduction and executive summary	73
II. Electronic auction systems	74
III. Should issuers develop their own electronic auction systems?	76
IV. Syndication and electronic bond issuance	77
V. Issuance to retail investors	78
VI. The future of primary dealers	79
VII. The future of primary debt markets	80
VIII. Concluding remarks	81
Notes	82
References	82

Chapter 5

The Impact of Electronic Systems on Secondary Markets

I. Introduction	83
II. Penetration of electronic trading systems	84
III. Factors affecting the use of electronic trading systems	84
IV. Definition and characteristics of electronic trading systems	85
V. Overview of ETS in OECD countries	86
VI. The impact of ETS on the secondary market structure	87
VII. Competition between system providers	91
VIII. The future of secondary debt markets	93
IX. Concluding remarks	95
Annex: Types of Electronic Trading Systems	96
Notes	98
References	99

Chapter 6

The Role and Structure of Debt Management Offices

I. Introduction	101
II. Overview and assessment of the factors shaping the trend to autonomous debt offices	102
III. Features of an Autonomous Debt Management Agency (ADMA)	109

IV. Selected results of the survey on the institutional arrangements for debt management in OECD countries	118
V. The future organisation of debt management agencies	127
Notes	133

Chapter 7

Risk Management Practices Concerning Assets and Liabilities of Debt Managers in OECD Countries

I. Overview	135
II. Scope of risk management operations	136
III. Risk management governance	137
IV. Market Risk Management	138
V. Credit Risk Management	139
VI. Liquidity Risk Management	140
VII. Operational Risk Management	141
VIII. Legal Risk Management	141
knex : Summary of the Detailed Responses to the Questionnaire	142

Chapter 8

Investor Relations and Information Policy by OECD Sovereigns

I. Introduction	149
II. Confidentiality	149
III. Overall conclusions.....:	150
IV. Discussion points	152
V. Investor relations strategy	152
VI. Responsibility for investor relations activities	154
VII. Investors	154
VIII. Foreign-currency debt	157
IX. Effectiveness of intermediaries	158
X. Specific investor relations activities	159

Chapter 9

Challenges for Debt Management in Emerging Bond Markets

I. Introduction	169
II. Overview of problems and issues in emerging fixed-income securities markets	172
III. Contribution of government securities markets and public debt management to the development of corporate securities markets	179
IV. The role of cross-border capital flows in the development of domestic bond markets	182
V. Obstacles in developing emerging fixed-income securities markets	183
VI. Conclusions and policy actions	188
Notes	192