

The Evolving Global Trade Architecture

Dilip K. Das

Edward Elgar

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

Acronyms	viii
About the author	x
Acknowledgments	xi
Preface	xii
1 Development, developing economies and the multilateral trade regime	1
2 Necessity for a development round	33
3 Special treatment and policy space for the developing economies in the multilateral trade regime	69
4 The Fifth Ministerial Conference: the wheels come off at Cancun	99
5 Enter the developing economies: transforming the landscape of the multilateral trade regime	116
6 The Sixth Ministerial Conference: the lean Hong Kong harvest	145
7 The Doha Round: a disenchanting evolutionary process	162
Bibliography	198
Index	209