

Structuring Public-Private Research Partnerships for Success

Empowering University Partners

Gordon Rausser

University of California, Berkeley, USA

Holly Ameden

Independent Researcher, USA

Reid Stevens

Texas A&M University, USA

TPTj¹ Edward Elgar
PUBLISHING

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

List of abbreviations	vi
1 Public research enterprises: The changing landscape	1
2 The scientific research process	17
3 Public good versus private good research: The empirical evidence	27
4 Crowding-in versus crowding-out of public good research	39
5 Knowledge creation and the research and development process	65
6 PPRPs: The benefits and risks of the bargain	81
7 Governance structures and collective decision making	105
8 Incomplete contracts and control premiums	131
9 Impure goods and the structure of contracts	143
10 The structural setting: The stages of research and development	155
11 Lessons and recommendations	183
References	190
Appendix: University and government guidelines	205
Index	285