

THE NORTH THE SOUTH AND THE ENVIRONMENT

ECOLOGICAL CONSTRAINTS AND THE GLOBAL ECONOMY

EDITED BY
V BHASKAR AND ANDREW GLYN

United Nations University Press

TOKYO • NEW YORK • PARIS

EARTHSCAN

Earthscan Publications Ltd, London

CONTENTS

List of illustrations	vi
Glossary	viii
The contributors	ix
Acknowledgements	ix
Foreword	xi
1 Introduction	1
VBhaskar and Andrew Glyn
2 Environmental sustainability and the growth of GDP: conditions for compatibility	9
Paul Ekins and Michael Jacobs
3 Northern growth and environmental constraints	47
Andrew Glyn
4 Can the North stop consumption growth? Escaping the cycle of work and spend	68
Juliet B Schor
5 Population growth and the environmental crisis: beyond the 'obvious'	85
Franck Amalric
6 Distributive justice and the control of global warming	102
VBhaskar
7 Enclosing the global commons: global environmental negotiations in a North-South conflictual approach	118
Alain Lipietz
8 Environmental policies and North-South trade: a selected survey of the issues	143
Partha Sen
9 The Korean model of development and its environmental implications	158
Jong-Il You
10 National development and local environmental action - the case of the River Narmada	184
Gita Sen
11 Economics and ecosystems: the case of Zimbabwean peasant households	201
Will Cavendish
12 Development after ecology	232
Bob Sutcliffe
Index	259