New Horizons in Tourism

Strange Experiences and Stranger Practices

Edited by

Tej Vir Singh

Centre for Tourism Research and Development
A-965/6 Indira Nagar, Lucknow 226016, India
Contents

Contributors vii
About the Contributors ix
Preface xiii
Acknowledgements xv

PART 1. The Edge of Tourism

1. Tourism Searching for New Horizons: an Overview
   Tej Vir Singh 1

2. Vacationing in Space: Tourism Seeks 'New Skies'
   Jennifer Laing and Geoffrey I. Crouch 11

3. Tourism in the Forbidden Lands: the Antarctica Experience
   John Splettstoesser, Denise Landau and R.K. Headland 27

4. Skilled Commercial Adventure: the Edge of Tourism
   Ralf Buckley 37

5. Tourism Trespasses on the Himalayan Heritage: the Hermit Village, Malana
   Tej Vir Singh, Purnima Chauhan and Shalini Singh 49

PART 2. The Macabre in Tourism

   A.V. Seaton and J.J. Lennon 63

7. Tourism at the Borders of Conflict and (De)militarized Zones
   Dallen J. Timothy, Bruce Prideaux and Samuel Seongseop-Kim 83

8. Tourism and the Heritage of Atrocity: Managing the Heritage of South African Apartheid for Entertainment
   G.J. Ashworth 95
PART 3. The Unconventional in Tourism

9. Deep Ecotourism: Seeking Theoretical and Practical Reverence
   David A. Fennell

10. Against the Wind — Impermanence in Wilderness: the Tasmanian Experience
    Trevor H.B. Sofield

11. Health Tourism in Kyrgyz Republic: the Soviet Salt Mine Experience
    Peter Schofield

PART 4. Tourism For the Poor, the Old and Humankind

12. Pro-poor Tourism: Benefiting the Poor
    Dilys Roe, Harold Goodwin and Caroline Ashley

13. Tourism for the Young-old and Old-old
    Megan Cleaver Sellick and Thomas E. Muller

14. Volunteer Tourism: New Pilgrimages to the Himalayas
    Shalini Singh and Tej Vir Singh

PART 5. The Future

15. Will Travel Vanish? Looking Beyond the Horizon
    Julio R. Aramberri

Index