

Matthias Rekhhard

European spirit? adaption to market economy and national identity in Poland and Ukraine

National culture and its influence on the European Integration, advertising and entrepreneurship

Table of content

Registry of tables .....	XIX
Index of figures .....	XX
List of abbreviations .....	XXIII
Introduction .....	1
Chapter 1: The role of Poland and Ukraine in the CMEA and their position during its breakdown .....	5
1.1 Introduction to diverse transition CEEC matters : definitions, initial conditions stage models, endpoint of transition .....	5
1.1.1 Overview on definitions of the transformation issue.....	6
1.1.2 Epitome of the scholars' dispute on the significance of disparate initial conditions.....	6
1.1.3 Revising literature in quest of accounts of transformation models.....	7
1.1.3.1 Approaches based on GDP growth.....	7
1.1.3.2 A stepwise model of the transformation process presented by EBRD.....	8
1.1.3.3 Van de MorteFs three-stage depiction of transition course.....	9
1.1.4 A stub of controverse on the possible endpoint of CEEC transition .....	11
1.2 Economic and general conditions in late communist Poland and Ukraine, activity of protest movements in the pre-transition period .....	11
1.3 The rapid breakdown of a decade-long morbid economic system - Soviet trade shock of 1989-91..: .....	14
1.4 Link between economic growth and uneven initial conditions among CEEC .....	15
1.5 Gradualism versus Big Bang .....	17
1.6 General socio-economic facts of PI and Uk today compared to 1990/91 .....	19
1.6.1 Balance sheet line of Poland's evolution in economy and politics since the previous mid-generational timespan passed.....	19
1.6.2 Frame data sketching Ukraine's econo-political transition.....	23

Chapter 2: Theoretical contemplations of national culture: literature review, discussion ...	29
2.1 Cultural definitions as embrace of national culture and identity.....	29
2.2 The notion of nation as theoretical agars for the subsequent discussion on national identity.....	30
2.3 Immersion in the realm of NI by theoretical ancillary constructions.....	31
2.3.1 Presentation of definitions.....	31
2.3.2 Description of models.....	33
2.4 Comments on selected definitions and models of national culture definitions.....	36
2.4.1 Analysis of the regarded NI definitions in respect of utility for transformation studies ..!:	36
2.4.2 Exploitation of stated NC models as preparation of following dimension processing.....	40
2.4.2.1 bipolar models-gain and flaws: useful parts of approaches a la Hofstede, critique by McSweeney and Nardon.....	40
2.4.2.2 Throsby's approach of cultural capital.....	44
2.4.2.3 Weaver s model of the cultural iceberg.....	45
2.4.2.4 Merk's onion diagram of national culture.....	45
2.4.2.5 Harris and Morgan's enumeration of partially concrete in- and outward NC elements.....	45
Chapter 3: Integration of NC traits extracted from selected models.....	47
3.1 Gathering and listing of suitable model elements.....	47
3.2 Intermediate grouping in the attempt to establish model frame and content.....	47
3.3 Extraction of a generic term for the distinct NC model layers.....	48
Chapter 4: Main features of Polish and Ukrainian national identity, its occurrence nowadays, In-national comparison and role in the countries" process of European harmonisation.....	49
4.1 Principal human questions vested in the notion of national identity, cohesion to the domain of national culture.....	49
4.2 Generation and evolution of Polish national identity through its millenarian history ..	50
4.3 Facets of disturbances overcome by Polish collective consciousness under communism.....	53

4.3.1 Was Polish Catholicism as guardian of national identity affected during the socialist era?.....	53
4.3.2 Absorption of Polish national consciousness to Soviet influence on Poland between 1945 and 1991.....	54
4.4 Material and mental novelties flooding the pool of Polish self- and foreign concept and public's general and microculture-dependent reply thereon.....	54
4.5 Poles' self-comprehension as EU member state and harsh realities ordinary citizens and their representatives during accession negotiations.....	55
4.6 Repercussions of western winds of adversity on the 2003 adhesion referendum, satisfaction with the events of May 1 st , 2004, overall spirit of euro-enthusiasm/-scepticism.....	57
4.7 Conclusive remarks on Poland's NI-dyed convergence process embraced by popular patrimony, party initiatives, religion, social cleavages and foreign influences.....	58
4.8 Sketch of generation and formation of Ukraine's national identity with focus on the turbulence spilling over in the 19 th and 20 century.....	60
4.9 Disorientations, uncertainties and new alignment in public debate after the marginalisation of Marxist doctrines in 1991.....	62
4.10 A threefold set of examples provided to outline Ukrainians' deal with the subject of EU engagement.....	63
4.11 Negotiations of candidacy between Kiev and Brussels - a long decade of unilateral advancements.....	64
4.12 Comparison of nature and effect of NI in Poland and Ukraine.....	65
Chapter 5: Theoretical precis of the Basic Human Need subject, draft of respective consumers' need topology based upon of suitable advertising cases.....	67
5.1 Elusive touch of the cause-effect problem between BHN and national culture.....	67
5.2 Definitions of human needs ....	68
5.3 Human needs models composed by basic and progressive aspirative level.....	68
5.3.1 Maslow's pyramid of human needs, extensions and criticism.....	69
5.3.2 Sites' suggestion of primary and derivative needs in relation to the Maslow model.....	71

5.3.3 Hertnon's (2/2) BHN matrix and multi-sector spiral depiction.....	72
5.4 Additional contributions, behavioural extension of the BFTN concept.....	73
5.4.1 Nussbaum's ten-point compilaton of human aspirations.....	73
5.4.2 Discussion of Knemeyer's model of human state and behaviour.....	74
5.4.3 General conjunction between BFIN, values and customer behaviour.....	75
5.5 Criticism of ordinal and enumerative BHN approaches, question of universality resp. cultural embracement a la Marker.....	76
5.6 Interpretation of style'and message in advertising and the mass clientele's reaction thereon for selected durable and non-durable consumer goods in respect of basic human needs.....	77
5.6.1 Weaving a connection between the BFIN concept and marketing, esp. promotion.....	77
5.6.2 The situation in Poland.....	79
5.6.2.1 Amplour and quality of marketing, esp. advertising, in the socialist period.....	79
5.6.2.2 Extract of publicitarian productions diffused within the first 15 years of capitalism.....	82
5.6.2.2.1 Compilation of promotional creations for consumer goods (Hygienic products, beer, tobacco and chocolate).....	82
5.6.2.2.2 Overview of Polish households" equipment by consumer durables, treatment of the Heyah advertisement campaigns since 2004.....	90
5.6.3 The situation in Ukraine.....	94
5.6.3.1 Reality of reklama, propaganda and sneaking glimpse on western brands and effect on advertising perception in the early 1990s.....	94
5.6.3.2 Sangwan's and Golovkina's survey on the consciousness of brand's niental anchorage within customers and dangers for CEEC inhabitants.....	96
5.6.3.3 Selection of advertising creations meant to influence purchase behaviour in today's Ukraine.....	98
5.6.3.3.1 Examination of a set of consumer goods being concordant (he Polish review.....	98

6.5.2.1	Description of examination arrangement, regression variables, correlations, control variables, dummies as well as rough confirmation of certain repercussions of uncertainty avoidance on entrepreneurship.....	132
6.5.2.2	Direct effects of the uncertainty avoidance level on the rate of Business Ownership.....	133
6.5.2.3	Depiction of respective indirect effects.....	134
6.6	Collection of characteristics of entrepreneurs and their actions, attempt to interpret these particularities with the toolcase of Dyczewski's Polish national value listing ...	135
6.6.1	Introductory key date on the situation of Polish private business in the pre-and early post transition period.....	135
6.6.2	Changes of the legal framework envisaging to create a more entrepreneurship-friendly climate, effects there of within the first decade reforms.....	137
6.6.3	Family, kin and friends as microcultures Polish private enterprises' lifecycle is commonly incorporated to.....	138
6.6.4	Darrell's idea of the Christian entrepreneur transferred to a brief reasoning on religion as determinant for startups in Poland.....	141
6.7	Reflections on the dependence of Ukrainian entrepreneurship particularities on Ray's selection of traditional and communism-related national values.....	146
6.7.1	Covered in the deepest shadow of the Kremlin towers: Circumstances of non-state-owned establishments in the former Ukrainian SSR.....	146
6.7.2	Basic facts on the Ukrainian micro-enterprise sector, evolution manifestations between 1991 and 2004.....	147
6.7.3	Assessment whether the worldview of life's dirty rules is still effective within modern Ukrainian business owners.....	149
6.7.3.1	Corruption: Ukrainians' well-tried lubricant to keep the economic geardrive running today?.....	149
6.7.3.2	Cherishment of clan, friendship and collegial ambience and distrust of more outward parties as controverse social effects for business operation.....	152
6.7.3.3	Have Ray's communism-breeded values, a.o. among private businessmen outlived the recent change of an era?.....	153
6.7.3.4	Digest of cognitions on illicit business habits.....	154
6.7.4	Creativity and skill of independent thinking, neglected by state order under

communism, reassessed under the light of patent application activity in recent years resp. arrangement of R&D efforts.....	154
6.7.5 Paragraph explaining why the author dared to omitt the treatment of Orthodox faith in Ukraine connected to entrepreneurship characteristics.....	159
6.8 Verification of hypothesis 5 and brief comparison of interdependences between national values and entrepreneurship in Poland and Ukraine.....	160
Conclusion .....	161
Annex .....	XXIII
List of paper and report references .....	LXVI
Directory of book-based sources .....	VC
Registry of online sources .....	CIII
Oswiadczenie .....	CIXX