

Curricula, Examinations, and Assessment in Secondary Education in Sub-Saharan Africa

Secondary Education in Africa (SEIA)

Africa Region Human Development Department

THE WORLD BANK
Washington, D.C.

Contents

Foreword	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Executive Summary	xi
Resume analytique	xxiii
1 Introduction	1
The CASASE Study	1
Methodology of the Study	1
Definitions	2
Advance Organizer	4
2 Context of the Sub-Saharan African Secondary Education	5
Enrollment in Secondary Education in Sub-Saharan Africa	5
Primary Completion Rates, Transfer Rates, and Gross Enrollment Ratios	5
Teachers and Student Teacher Ratios	7
Differences Across Sub-Saharan African Countries	7
Social Perceptions of Education and Vocational Education	8
3 Access, Equity, Quality, and Curriculum	11
Access	11
Equity	12
Quality	12
Tensions Between Quality and Access	13
Quality and Curriculum Reform	13
4 Formal Curriculum and Curriculum Structures in Sub-Saharan Africa	15
Lengths of Educational Cycles Across Sub-Saharan Africa	15
Curriculum Structures in the Five Countries Visited	15
Position of Technical and Vocational Education	16
Exit Skills	17
Issues in Secondary Education Curriculum	19
Literacy and Language of Instruction	20
Junior Secondary Education as Part of Basic Education	22

Subjects and Learning Areas in Junior Secondary Education	22
Curriculum Extensions at Both Junior and Secondary Level	25
General Senior Secondary Education Curriculum Structure	28
Vocationalized Education	29
Technical and Vocational Education and Training	33
Starting Points for TVET	33
Unification of TVET	36
Qualification Frameworks and Integration	36
Implications of Frameworks	41
Operational Curriculum: Current Trends in Instructional Methodology	43
The Need to Move Toward More Active Teaching and Learning Approaches	43
Active Learning and Learner-centered Education	43
The Reality of Classroom Instruction and Learner-centered Education	44
The Implementation of LCE	46
Equity and Physical Resources	47
Further Curriculum Issues Influencing Instructional Quality	48
Curriculum, Teacher and Learner Support Materials	51
Textbooks	52
Attained Curriculum: Assessment and Assessment Practices in Sub-Saharan Africa	57
Assessment, Examination, and the Wider Picture	57
Examinations, Assessment, and the Curriculum	57
Examination Results: Junior Secondary Level, and Results of the TIMSS study	58
Examination Results Senior Secondary Level	60
Standard Setting and Quality Assurance of Secondary Education Examinations	60
Alignment Between Curriculum and Assessment	62
Assessment Items and Examination Practices	62
Continuous Assessment and Assessment Instruments	64
Summary and Practical Suggestions for Examination and Assessment	65
Curriculum Development Processes	67
Policy Framework	67
Addressing the Gap Between Plan and Achievement	70
Considerations About Curriculum Implementation	72

9	Capacity Building	79
	• The Need for Capacity Building in Sub-Saharan Africa	79
	Teacher Professional Development	79
	Implementing In-service Education	82
	Other Factors Influencing Implementation Education Reforms	84
	Pre-service Teacher Education	88
10	Conclusions and Recommendations	91
	Reform Potential and Focal Points	91
	Complexity of Curriculum Reform	92
	Curriculum Reform and Wider Educational Reform	93
	The Importance of the Implementation Process, and the Technicalities of Curriculum Design	94
	The Need for Capacity Development at All Levels	94
	References	97

LIST OF TABLES

1.	Enrollment in Junior Secondary Education in the Five Countries in the Study.	6
2.	Enrollment in Senior Secondary Education in the Five Countries in the Study.	6
3.	Enrollment in Secondary Education in the Five Countries in the Study.	7
4.	Teachers and StudentTeacher Ratios in Selected Sub-Saharan African Countries... .	8
5.	Curriculum Structures in Five Sub-Saharan Countries.	16
6.	Exit Points, Continuation, and Exit Skills.	18
7.	Three Examples of Basic Education Curricula in Sub-Saharan Africa	23
8.	Subjects and Learning Areas, Junior Secondary in Five Sub-Saharan Countries .. .	24
9.	Senior Secondary Curriculum Core Subjects and Options in Five Sub-Saharan Countries.	30
10.	Existing Links Between Education and Vocation in Sub-Saharan Africa	31
11.	Levels of Physical Resources.	48
12.	Examination Results Junior Secondary Level in Four Sub-Saharan Countries.	58
13.	Examination Results at the Senior Secondary Level in Five Sub-Saharan Countries.	61
14.	Curriculum Development Processes and Weights of Importance.	69
15.	Potential Influence of Capacity Building on Individual and System Development	80
16.	Levels of Classroom Interaction, and Assessment	82
17.	Levels of School Management and School Ecology.	88