Spatial Econometrics and Spatial Statistics

Edited by

Arthur Getis

Stephen and Mary Birch Foundation Chair of Geographical Studies, Department of Geography, San Diego State University, USA

Jesus Mur * * Associate Professor, Department of Economic Analysis, University of Zaragoza, Spain and

Henry G. Zoller Department of Geography, University of Louvain, Belgium

Contents

	List of Tables	vii
	List of Figures >	ix
	Preface	xii
	Notes on the Contributors I '	xiv
	Part I Introduction	1
1	Contributions to Spatial Econometrics and Spatial Statistics ARTHUR GETIS and JESUS MUR
2	Theoretical Economic Geography and Spatial Econometrics: Bridging t Gap Between Theory and Evidence BERNARD FINGLETON
	Part II Spatial Econometrics Estimation	29
3	Spatial Autoregressive Local Estimation R. KELLEY PACE and JAMES P. LESAGE
4	Aggregation Bias in Maximum Likelihood Estimation of Spatial Autoregressive Processes TONY SMITH
5	Econometric Estimation of a Spatial Dynamic Model in Continuous Space and Continuous Time: An Empirical Demonstration KIERAN P. DONAGHY and MARIA PLOTNIKOVA
6	Using Matrix Exponentials to Estimate Spatial Probit/Tobit Models JAMES P. LESAGE and R. KELLEY PACE	105

	Part III	Spatial Dependence and Spatial Errors	133
7	Properties of Tests for Spatial Error Components: A Further Analysis 'HARRY H. KELEJIAN and YEVGENY YUZEFOVICH
8	Some Proposals for Discriminating Between Spatial Processes F. JAVIER TRIVEZ and JESUS MUR
9	Serial and Spatial Error Dependence in Space-Time Models • J. PAUL ELHORST
10	Spatial De SERGIO J. 1	pendence in the Evolution of Regional Income Distributions REY , >•	194
	Part IV	Spatial Patterns and Local Spatial Analysis	215
11	On Connectropy JOHAN F. KAASHOEK, JEAN H.P. PAELINCK and HENRY G. ZOLLER^
12	2 Locally Weighted Regression and Time-Varying Distance Gradients DANIEL P. MCMELLEN
13	The Statistical Significance of the Maximum Local Statistic PETER A. ROGERSON
14	Detecting Identifying LI-AN Xu	Spatial Clusters: A Bayesian Approach with Application to Disability Patterns in Mississippi and Alabama and SHUMING BAO	265
	Bibliograp Subject Ind	hy dex	283 296	