

Human Rights, Labor Rights, and International Trade

edited by Lance A. Compa and
Stephen F. Diamond

PENN

University of Pennsylvania Press
Philadelphia

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction Lance A. Compa and Stephen F. Diamond	1
Part I: Labor Rights and Human Rights
1. Labor Rights and Human Rights: A Historical Perspective David Montgomery	13
2. The Paradox of Workers' Rights as Human Rights Virginia A. Leary	22
3. Human Rights and Labor Rights: A European Perspective Denis MacShane	48
4. Labor Rights Provisions in U.S. Trade Law: "Aggressive Unilateralism"? Philip Alston	71
Part II: Labor Rights and Trade
5. In from the Margins: Morality, Economics, and International Labor Rights Stephen Herzenberg	99

vi Contents

6. At the Junction of the Global and the Local: Transnational Industry and Women Workers in the Caribbean Cecilia Green	118
7. Multinational Enterprises and International Labor Standards: Which Way for Development and Jobs? R. Michael Gadbaw and Michael T. Medwig	141
8. From Intention to Action: An ILO-GATT/WTO Enforcement Regime for International Labor Rights Daniel S. Ehrenberg	163
9. Private Labor Rights Enforcement Through Corporate Codes of Conduct Lance A. Compa and Tashia Hinchliffe Darricarrère	181
10. Labor Rights in the Global Economy: A Case Study of the North American Free Trade Agreement Stephen F. Diamond	199
Part III: Litigating International Labor Rights
11. International Worker Rights Enforcement: Proposals Following a Test Case Terry Collingsworth	227
12. The Pico Case: Testing International Labor Rights in U.S. Courts Frank E. Deale	251
13. The Castro Alfaro Case: Convenience and Justice—Lessons for Lawyers in Transcultural Litigation Emily Yozell	273
Bibliography	293
Index	303
List of Contributors	309