

Hearts, Minds, Voices

US Cold War Public Diplomacy and the Formation of the Third World

JASON C. PARKER

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

CONTENTS

Preface and Acknowledgments vii

Introduction: In the Beginning Was the Word 1

1. Absent at the Creation: The Truman Administration's Public Diplomacy Outside Europe 16
2. Hearts and Minds on New Frontlines: The Public Diplomacy of the Korean War in Asia 42
3. Pawns, Proxies, and Pressing the Case for the Free World: The USIA and Eisenhower's New Look 65
4. A "New Babel of Voices": Cacophony and Community in the Decolonizing World 92
5. "Mucha Alianza, Poco Progreso": The Alliance for Progress and the Development of the Third World 116
6. True Colors: Nonalignment, Race, and the Proliferation of Public Diplomacy in the Formation of the Third World 140

Conclusion: Murrow's Wager 168

Notes 179

Bibliography 217

Index 233