

tourism development

HEIDI KEYSER

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Preface	6
Acknowledgements	9
1 The nature and meaning of tourism	10
The relationship between leisure, recreation, and tourism	12
Defining tourism	16
System theories and tourism	20
The tourism system	23
Dimensions of tourism	28
2 The measurement of tourism	32
Why measure tourism?	34
Towards standard definitions and terminology	38
The measurement of tourism	46
Methods of measurement	55
Statistical trends	59
Case study: Researching tourism markets – the Australian way	62
3 Tourism demand	66
What is tourism demand?	68
Elements of demand for tourism	69
Tourism demands in populations	70
What determines demand in populations?	71
Travel motivations	89
Indicators of demand	94
4 Travel patterns and trends	98
Before steam engines	100
The industrial era	103
Tourism in the twentieth century	107
The 1970s: Decade of tourism swings	110
The 1980s: Decade of turbulence	111
The 1990s: Decade of tourism growth	111
The new millennium	113
Growth factors in tourism	113
Tourism in space	114
Explaining global tourism patterns	121
Into the future	124

5 The tourism industry	128
The nature and allocation of tourism resources	130
Is there a tourism 'industry'?	134
What makes tourism products unique?	141
Forms of tourism enterprises	146
The tourism distribution system	148
Levels of the tourism distribution system	151
Sectoral organizations	156
Industry trends: integration, consolidation, and disintermediation	158
6 The tourism destination	166
The destination mix	168
What is the role of attractions?	170
The hospitality sector	178
Transportation and other infrastructure	190
Case study: Convention centres in South Africa	198
7 Tourism destination development: agents and issues	202
What is tourism destination development?	204
Destination stakeholders	205
Agents of destination development	208
Issues in tourism destination development	232
8 Types of tourism development	244
Adventure tourism	247
Business tourism versus leisure tourism	248
Cruise tourism	258
Coastal tourism	259
Cultural tourism	261
Educational tourism	263
Events tourism	263
Health tourism	265
Nature-based tourism	266
Rural tourism	267
Urban tourism	269
Sport tourism	272
Case study: MICE tourism – a success story 'down under'	274
9 Tourism and economic development	276
Understanding tourism and economic development	278
Tourism economic impacts	279
Measuring tourism economic impacts	300
Obstacles to economic development through tourism	304
Enhancing the economic benefits of tourism	305

10 The environmental impacts of tourism	310
Key concepts for tourism and the environment	312
Tourism and the environment – three relationships	315
Tourism and the environment in conflict	317
Tourism and the environment in symbiosis	325
Managing environmental impacts	338
11 Social and cultural aspects of tourism	342
Key concepts for tourism, cultures, and societies	344
Tourist-host interrelationship	347
Social impacts	349
The relationship between tourism and culture	353
Socio-cultural impact analysis	365
Managing tourism impacts	365
12 Managing destinations for sustainability	370
Sustainable development	372
Destination area lifecycles	375
Sustainable tourism development	379
Destination planning	388
Managing tourism development	390
Ecotourism and sustainable development	400
Case study: Visitor management on Robben Island	405
Bibliography	409
Index	415