

Honor in the Modern World

Interdisciplinary Perspectives

Edited by Laurie M. Johnson and
Dan Demetriou

LEXINGTON BOOKS

Lanham • Boulder • New York • London

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction	1
Dan Demetriou and Laurie M. Johnson
Part I: Origin Stories	19
1 Fighting Together: Civil Discourse and Agonistic Honor	21
Dan Demetriou
2 Liberalism and Honor through the Lens of Darwin	43
Steven Forde
Part II: Liberalism and Honor	63
3 Liberal Honor	65
Sharon R. Krause
4 A Neo-Aristotelian Theory of Political Honor	89
Steven C. Skultety
5 Putting One's Best Face Forward: Why Liberalism Needs Honor	109
Ryan Rhodes
6 Communitarianism and Honor	125
Amitai Etzioni
Part III: Honor: from Citizens to Statesmen	141
7 Good Citizens: Gratitude and Honor	143
Anthony Cunningham
8 Winston Churchill and Honor: The Complexity of Honor and Statesmanship	161
Mark F. Griffith
9 Life in Death: Democracy and Civic Honor	177
Ajume Wingo
Part IV: Women and Honor	197
10 The Female Point of Honor in Postrevolutionary France	199
Andrea Mansker

11	A Woman's Honor: Purity Norms and Male Violence Joseph A. Vandello and Vanessa Hettinger	219
Part V: Honor and National Defense		237
12	Restoring Order: The Ancient Greeks on Taming Honor and Appetite Richard Ned Lebow	239
13	"The Honour of the Crown": The State and Its Soldiers Paul Robinson	257
14	Honor in Military Culture: A Standard of Integrity and Framework for Moral Restraint Joe Thomas and Shannon E. French	271
Conclusion Laurie M. Johnson		283
Bibliography		291
Index		311
About the Contributors		315