

Economic Growth and Valuation of the Environment

A Debate

Edited by

Ekko C. van Ierland

Professor of Environmental Economics and Natural Resources, Wageningen University, The Netherlands

Jan van der Straaten

Assistant Professor, Department of Leisure Studies, Tilburg University, The Netherlands

Herman R.J. Vollebergh

*Assistant Professor of Public Economics, Erasmus University
Rotterdam, The Netherlands*

Edward, Elgar

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	ix
List of contributors	xi
Acknowledgements	xiii
1. Valuation of nature and the environment Ekko C. van Ierland, Jan van der Straaten and Herman R.J. Vollebergh	1
PART ONE SETTING THE STAGE	15
2. Environmental valuation and sustainable national income according to Hueting Roefie Hueting and Bart de Boer	17
3. Three persistent myths in the environmental debate Roefie Hueting	78
4. Key issues in environmental economics Paul Ekins	90
PART TWO REFLECTIONS	135
5. Roefie Hueting's perpendicular 'demand curve' and the issue of objective value Herman E. Daly	137
6. Values, valuation and valuing processes Richard B. Norgaard, Astrid I Scholz and Sarah Fleisher Trainor	151
7. Technical progress, finite resources and intergenerational justice Wilfred Beckerman	170
PART THREE GREEN ACCOUNTING AND SUSTAINABLE NATIONAL INCOME	187
8. Steering by the right compass: the quest for a better assessment of the national product Salah El Serafy	189

9.	Valuing nature David Pearce, Kirk Hamilton and Giles Atkinson	211
10.	Natural capital, the greened national product and the monetization frontier Sylvie Faucheux and Martin O'Connor	225
11.	Alternative calculations of a sustainable national income for the Netherlands according to Hueting Harmen Verbruggen, Rob B. Dellink, Reyer Gerlagh, Marjan W. Hofkes and Huib M.A. Jansen	275
PART FOUR CONCLUSION		313
12.	An appreciation of Dr Roefie Hueting's ecological work Robert Goodland	315
13.	Rejoinders to symposium authors Roefie Hueting	333
	Index	379