

EUROPEAN TRADE MARK LAW

A Commentary

Annette Kur

Martin Senftleben

with a contribution by

Verena von Bomhard

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

CONTENTS—SUMMARY

2

Table of Cases	xxiii
Table of Statutes	xlvii
Abbreviations	lxv

I INTRODUCTION

1. Rationales of Trade Mark Protection Annette Kur and Martin Senfileben	3
2. International Protection Annette Kur and Martin Senfileben	27
3. The European Trade Mark System: Development and Basic Features 63 Annette Kur

II SUBSTANTIVE TRADE MARK LAW

4. Acquisition of Rights Annette Kur	89
5. Rights Conferred Martin Senfileben	269
6. Limitations, Defences, and Genuine Use Annette Kur and Martin Senfileben	405
7. Trade Marks as Objects of Property Martin Senfileben	491
8. Collective Marks and Certification Marks Annette Kur	515
9. Cancellation and Loss of Trade Mark Rights Annette Kur	527

III PROCEDURAL ASPECTS: REGISTRATION, MAINTENANCE, AND CANCELLATION OF TRADE MARKS

10. Introduction to Procedural EU Trade Mark Law Verena von Bombard	561
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

11. Proceedings Relating to EUTMs	567
Verena von Bombard
12. International Registration (Madrid System)	625
Martin Senfileben
IV      ENFORCEMENT
13. Civil Sanctions and Proceedings	639
Annette Kur
14. Administrative Measures	703
Martin Senfileben
15. Criminal Sanctions	723
Annette Kur
Bibliography	737
Index	767

CONTENTS

Table of Cases	xxiii
Table of Statutes	xlvii
Abbreviations	lxv

I INTRODUCTION

1. Rationales of Trade Mark Protection
1.1 Basic Parameters of Trade Mark Law	1.01
1.2 The Functions Debate	1.06
1.2.1 Essential origin function	1.06
1.2.1.1 Reduction of consumer search costs	1.08
1.2.1.2 Incentive to provide product variety and quality	1.10
1.2.2 Accessory functions	1.12
1.2.2.1 National precursors	1.16
1.2.2.2 Recognition in CJEU jurisprudence	1.20
1.2.2.3 Uncertain meaning	1.23
1.2.2.4 Unclear policy objective	1.29
1.2.3 Free expression and undistorted competition as countervailing values	1.40
1.2.4 Guidelines for the reconciliation of interests	1.46
2. International Protection
2.1 Overview	2.01
2.2 International Protection Instruments	2.08
2.2.1 Agreements providing for substantive protection	2.08
2.2.1.1 The Paris Convention	2.08
2.2.1.2 TRIPS	2.11
2.2.2 Special agreements concerning registration and formalities	2.29
2.2.2.1 The Madrid System	2.29
2.2.2.2 The Nice Classification Agreement	2.33
2.2.2.3 The Trade Mark Law Treaty and the Singapore Treaty	2.34
2.3 International Norms with Relevance for Substantive Trade Mark Law	2.38
2.3.1 Eligibility and requirements for protection	2.38
2.3.1.1 Marks eligible for registration	2.38
2.3.1.2 Use as prerequisite for registration	2.42
2.3.1.3 Grounds for refusal	2.44

2.3.2 Rights conferred or otherwise guaranteed	1 2.54
2.3.2.1 Overview	2.54
2.3.2.2 Well-known marks	2.58
2.3.2.3 Marks registered by an agent or representative	2.65
2.3.3 Limitations and exceptions	2.68
2.3.4 Use requirement	2.73
2.3.5 Obligation not to encumber use (plain packaging)	2.75
2.3.6 Assignment and licenses	2.78
2.3.7 Trade names	2.84
2.3.8 Unfair competition	2.86
3. The European Trade Mark System: Development and Basic Features
3.1 Legal Traditions in Pre-Harmonized National Trade Mark Law 3.01
3.2 Pre-Harmonization Jurisprudence: Parallel Imports and the Specific Subject Matter of Trade Marks	3.03
3.3 TMD and CTMR	3.09
3.4 The 2016 Reform	3.13
3.5 Relationship Between National and EU Trade Mark Law	3.19
3.6 Residues of Territoriality within the EUTM System	3.25
3.7 Relationship with Unfair Competition Law	3.28
3.7.1 Major interfaces with harmonized legislation in the field	3.28
3.7.2 Protection beyond harmonization	3.33
3.8 Territorial Changes	3.38
3.8.1 Accession of new Member States	3.38
3.8.2 Potential consequences of Brexit	3.40
3.8.2.1 Overview	3.40
3.8.2.2 Intellectual property under the EEA Treaty	3.46
3.8.2.3 CJEU case law as precedents?	3.51

II SUBSTANTIVE TRADE MARK LAW

4. Acquisition of Rights
4.1 Signs Eligible for Protection	4.01
4.1.1 Introduction	4.01
4.1.1.1 Registration and use	4.01
4.1.1.2 Structure and content of provisions	4.03
4.1.1.3 Trade mark law reform	4.05
4.1.2 Capability to distinguish	4.07
4.1.3 Specificity (no registration of mere concepts)	4.15
4.1.4 (Graphical) representation	4.20
4.1.4.1 The Sieckmann criteria; background, contents, and future relevance	4.20
4.1.4.2 Smell marks and tastemarks	4.23

4.1.4.3	Sound marks	4.27
4.1.4.4	Colours per se and colour combinations	4.30
4.1.4.5	Get-up of services ('flagship stores')	4.32
4.1.4.6	Other forms of marks, guidelines, and court practice	4.37
4.1.5	(No) further requirements; ownership	4.41
4.2	Absolute Grounds for Refusal	4.44
4.2.1	Introduction	4.44
4.2.1.1	Structure and Content of Provisions	4.44
4.2.1.2	Trade mark law reform	4.47
4.2.2	Individual grounds for refusal	4.50
4.2.2.1	Distinctiveness, descriptive character, generic signs (Article 7 (l)(b)—(d) EUTMR)	4.50
4.2.2.2	Protection of product shapes	4.152
4.2.2.3	Offensive marks	4.205
4.2.2.4	Deceptive marks	4.219
4.2.2.5	Marks falling under Article 6 <sup>ter</sup> PC and other signs of public interest	4.225
4.2.2.6	Geographical indications and traditional specialties guaranteed	4.241
4.2.2.7	Plant variety denominations	4.257
4.2.2.8	Acquired distinctiveness	4.261
4.2.2.9	Other (optional) absolute grounds for refusal	4.303
4.3	Relative Grounds for Refusal or Invalidation	4.308
4.3.1	Introduction	4.308
4.3.2	Trade mark conflicts in registration proceedings	4.313
4.3.2.1	Cluttering "	4.313
4.3.2.2	Examination of trade mark conflicts in registration proceedings (EUTMR only)	4.319
4.3.3	Unregistered marks and other signs used in the course of trade	4.364
4.3.3.1	Overview	4.3 64
4.3.3.2	Existence of a prior right (national law)	4.367
4.3.3.3	Prior use of the sign	4.387
4.3.3.4	More than local significance	4.388
4.3.3.5	Entitlement to prohibit use of the subsequent mark	4.396
4.3.3.6	Consequences in case of mere local significance (Article 110 EUTMR)	4.399
4.3.4	Well-known marks	4.402
4.3.4.1	Overview	4.402
4.3.4.2	Application in practice	4.407
4.3.4.3	Well-known marks and marks having a reputation	4.410
4.3.5	Trade marks registered by an unauthorized agent	4.415
4.3.5.1	Overview	4.415
4.3.5.2	Application in practice	4.416
4.3.6	Geographical indications	4.418
4.3.7	Other prior rights	4.422
4.3.8	(Further) optional provisions in the TMD	4.427
4.3.8.1	Prior signs used in the course of trade	4.427
4.3.8.2	Bad faith	4.429

4.3.8.3	Expired marks (previous law)	4.432
4.3.8.9	Right owner's consent	4.435
5- Rights Conferred
5.1	Three General Types of Protection	5.01
5.1.1	Introduction	5.01
5.1.1.1	Overview	5.01
5.1.1.2	Right to prevent unauthorized use	5.03
5.1.1.3	No prejudice to earlier rights	5.09
5.1.1.4	Trade mark law reform	5-12
5.1.2	General infringement criteria	5.14
5.1.2.1	Overview	5.14
5.1.2.2	Use in the course of trade	5.16
5.1.2.3	Use in relation to goods or services	5-49
5.1.2.4	Function theory	5.57
5.1.3	Double identity rule	5.64
5.1.3.1	Overview	5.64
5.1.3.2	Double identity test	5.67
5.1.3.3	Absolute protection	5.70
5.1.3.4	Adverse effect on a protected trade mark function	5.73
5.1.3.5	Interplay with protection under sub (b) and (c)	5.92
5.1.3.6	Burden of proof	5.100
5.1.4	Protection against confusion	5.105
5.1.4.1	Overview	5.105
5.1.4.2	Consumer perception and market reality	5.111
5.1.4.3	Scope of the concept of confusion	5.125
5.1.4.4	Empirical evidence and normative corrections	5.165
5.1.5	Protection against dilution	5-182
5.1.5.1	Overview	5.182
5.1.5.2	Specific protection of accessory functions	5.187
5.1.5.3	Reputation as threshold requirement	5.193
5.1.5.4	Similarity of signs	5.212
5.1.5.5	Identical, similar, and dissimilar goods or services	5.213
5.1.5.6	Likelihood of association sufficient	5.215
5.1.5.7	Specific condition of detriment or unfair advantage	5.219
5.1.5.8	Due cause defence	5.250
5.2	Illustrative List of Prohibited Acts	5.273
5.2.1	Introduction	5.273
5.2.1.1	Illustrative list	5.273
5.2.1.2	Requirement of use as a trade mark	5.274
5.2.1.3	Trade mark law reform	5.278
5.2.2	Prohibited acts	5.279
5.2.2.1	Affixing a conflicting sign	5.279
5.2.2.2	Offering, marketing and stocking goods or supplying services	5.281
5.2.2.3	Import and export	5.284
5.2.2.4	Use as trade or company name	5.296

5.2.2.5	Use on business paper and in advertising	5.303
5.2.2.6	Comparative advertising	5.306
5.2.2.7	Burden of proof	5.309
5.3	Continued Use	5.312
5.3.1	Historical safeguard clause	5.312
5.3.2	No safeguard clause reflecting the trade mark law reform	5.313
5.4	Specific Types of Protection	5.315
5.4.1	Introduction	5.315
5.4.1.1	Structure and content of provisions	5.315
5.4.1.2	Trade mark law reform	5.316
5.4.2	Goods in transit	5.319
5.4.2.1	Overview	5.319
5.4.2.2	Confinement to counterfeit goods	5.321
5.4.2.3	Burden of proof	5.322
5.4.2.4	Reference to international freedom of trade	5.327
5.4.2.5	Cautious approach required	5.337
5.4.2.6	Medicinal products	5.340
5.4.3	Preparatory acts	5.343
5.4.3.1	Overview	5.343
5.4.3.2	Territorial aspects	5.345
5.4.4	Reproduction in dictionaries	5.347
5.4.4.1	Overview	5.347
5.4.4.2	Scope	5.348
5.4.5	Unfaithful agent	5.352
5.4.5.1	Overview	5.352
5.4.5.2	Scope	5.353
5.4.6	Right to compensation after publication	5.354
5.4.6.1	Overview	5.354
5.4.6.2	Broader industrial property context	5.355
5.5	Other Use	5.356
5.5.1	Overview	5.356
5.5.2	Trade mark law reform	5.358
5.5.3	Impact of CJEU jurisprudence	5.361
5-5.3.1	Pre-emption	5.363
5.5.3.2	Clarification	5.368
5.5.3.3	Conceptual parallels with regard to dilution	5.370
5.5.4	No conceptual parallels with regard to confusion	5.373
5.5.5	National implementation	5.375
6.	Limitations, Defences, and Genuine Use
6.1	Limitations	6.01
6.1.1	Introduction	6.01
6.1.1.1	Rationale	6.01
6.1.1.2	Overview	6.03
6.1.1.3	Interplay of limitations and infringement provisions	6.04
6.1.1.4	Trade mark law reform	6.08

6.1.2	Hie permitted uses specified	6.09
6.1.2.1	Use of one's own name and address	6.09
6.1.2.2	Indistinctive signs and signs used for descriptive purposes	6.16
6.1.2.3	Referential use	6.36
6.1.3	Compliance with honest practices	6.71
6.1.3.1	Definition and legal standards	6.71
6.1.3.2	Burden of proof	6.78
6.1.4	Prior signs of local significance	6.80
6.2	Exhaustion	6.82
6.2.1	Introduction	6.82
6.2.1.1	Overview	6.82
6.2.1.2	Rationale	6.83
6.2.1.3	Trade mark law reform	6.86
6.2.2	Territorial scope	6.88
6.2.3	Substantive scope	6.90
6.2.3.1	Putting trade-marked goods on the market	6.92
6.2.3.2	Consent	6.94
6.2.3.3	Economically linked persons	6.97
6.2.3.4	Further commercialization under the same trade mark	6.98
6.2.4	Legitimate reasons to oppose further commercialization	6.100
6.2.4.1	Serious damage to reputation	6.102
6.2.4.2	Impression of commercial connection	6.106
6.2.4.3	De-branding	6.109
6.2.4.4	Repackaging	6.110
6.2.4.5	Refilling	6.130
6.2.5	Consequences of exhaustion	6.133
6.2.5.1	Extinction of trade mark rights	6.133
6.2.5.2	Contractual stipulations	6.134
6.2.5.3	Freedom of advertising the resale	6.137
6.3	Genuine Use	6.138
6.3.1	Introduction	6.138
6.3.1.1	Rationale	6.138
6.3.1.2	No ex officio revocation	6.140
6.3.1.3	Trade mark law reform	6.141
6.3.2	General use criteria	6.145
6.3.2.1	Overview	6.145
6.3.2.2	Use in the course of trade	6.146
6.3.2.3	Use in relation to goods or services	6.147
6.3.2.4	Use in accordance with origin function	6.154
6.3.3	Specific criterion of genuine use	6.157
6.3.3.1	Concept of genuine use	6.157
6.3.3.2	Use of acceptable variation	6.164
6.3.3.3	Use for export purposes	6.168
6.3.3.4	Geographical extent	6.169
6.3.4	Period of five years	6.176
6.3.4.1	Initial grace period	6.176
6.3.4.2	Subsequent suspension	6.180

6.3.5	Impact of consent	6.183
6.3.6	Proper reasons for non-use	6.184
6.3.7	Consequences of non-use	6.187
6.3.7.1	Revocation with effect ex nunc	6.187
6.3.7.2	Non-use defence	6.189
6.3.7.3	Partial revocation	6.192
6.3.7.4	Resumption of use	6.193
6.4	Acquiescence	6.195
6.4.1	Introduction	6.195
6.4.2	Rationale	6.196
6.4.3	Conceptual contours	6.197
6.4.3.1	Allowing a later trade mark to evolve	6.200
6.4.3.2	Five successive years	6.207
6.4.3.3	Awareness	6.210
6.4.3.4	Absence of bad faith	6.213
6.5	Intervening Rights	6.214
6.5.1	Introduction	6.214
6.5.1.1	Overview	6.214
6.5.1.2	Defence to invalidation and infringement	6.218
6.5.1.3	Trade mark law reform	6.219
6.5.2	Insufficient degree of distinctiveness	6.221
6.5.2.1	No likelihood of confusion or reputation	6.222
6.5.2.2	No distinctiveness	6.229
6.5.3	Acquiescence	6.242
6.5.4	Non-use	6.244
6.5.5	Limitation of the earlier right	6.247
6.5.6	Coexistence of earlier and later mark	6.251
6.6	Prescription of Claims	6.253
6.6.1	Absence of harmonized law	6.253
6.6.2	Trade mark law reform	6.255
7.	Trade Marks as Objects of Property
7.1	State of Harmonization	7.01
7.1.1	Overview	7.01
7.1.2	Trade mark law reform	7.03
7.1.3	Interplay between EU law and national doctrines	706
7.2	Assignment and Transfer	7.14
7.2.1	Overview	7.14
7.2.2	Written form	718
7.2.3	Recordal in the register	7.20
7.2.4	Unfaithful agent or representative	7.24
7.3	Rights in rem	7.25
7.3.1	Overview	7.25
7.3.2	Recordal in the register	7.26

7.4. Levy of Execution	7.28
7.4.1 Overview	7.28
7.4.2 Recordal in the register	7.30
75 Insolvency Proceedings	732
7.5.1 Jurisdiction	732
7.5.2 Recordal in the register	733
76 Licensing	735
7.6.1 Far-reaching alignment of EUTMR and TMD provisions	735
7.6.2 Recordal in the register	738
7.6.3 Concept of licensing	740
7.6.4 Infringement claims against the licensee	7.42
7.6.4.1 Interplay with general contract law	7.42
7.6.4.2 Exclusion of exhaustion	7.43
7.6.4.3 Exhaustive list of contractual provisions	7.44
7.6.4.4 Scope of listed categories	7.45
7.6.5 Right of the licensee to bring proceedings and to claim damage	7.66
77 Procedural Issues	771
7.7.1 Recordal as a precondition for legal effect	7-71
7.7.2 Registration requirements	775
7.7.3 No corresponding rules in the TMD	776
78 Trade Mark Applications	777
7.8.1 Application mutatis mutandis	7.77
8. Collective Marks and Certification Marks
8.1 Introduction	8.01
8.1.1 Differences vis-à-vis individual marks	8.01
8.1.2 Overview	8.03
8.1.3 Trade mark law reform	8.07
8.2 Collective Marks	8.11
8.2.1 Ownership	8.11
8.2.2 Protection requirements	8.13
8.2.2.1 General	8.13
8.2.2.2 Geographical indications	8.16
8.2.3 Regulations	8.18
8.2.3.1 Basic requirements	8.18
8.2.3.2 Membership	8.20
8.2.3.3 Amendment	8.24
8.2.4 Revocation and invalidity	8.26
8.2.4.1 Grounds for revocation	8.26
8.2.4.2 Grounds for invalidity and quasi-collective marks	8.29
8.2.5 Rights conferred and persons entitled to bring an action	8.32
8.3 Certification Marks	8.34

9. Cancellation and Loss of Trade Mark Rights
9.1 Overview and Common Features	9.01
9.2 (Non-)Renewal	9.09
9.3 Surrender	9.12
9.4 Grounds for Revocation	9.15
9.4.1 Lack of genuine use	9.15
9.4.2 Signs having become generic	9.18
9.4.2.1 General standards	9.18
9.4.2.2 Geographic extent	9.25
9.4.2.3 Application to other forms of signs than word marks?	9.26
9.4.3 Signs having become deceptive	9.29
9.5 Grounds for Invalidation	9.34
9.5.1 Invalidation for absolute grounds	9.34
9.5.1.1 Trade marks registered in violation of the absolute grounds for refusal	9.34
9.5.1.2 Bad faith filings as an additional ground for invalidation	9.37
9.5.2 Invalidation for relative grounds	9.54
9.5.2.1 Prior rights in the meaning of Article 8(2)—(4) EUTMR, and relevant point in time	9.54
9.5.2.2 Other prior rights	9.56

III PROCEDURAL ASPECTS: REGISTRATION,
MAINTENANCE, AND CANCELLATION OF TRADE MARKS

10. Introduction to Procedural EU Trade Mark Law
10.1 Overview	10.01
10.2 EUTMs	10.05
10.3 National and Benelux Trade Marks	10.09
10.3.1 General remarks	10.09
10.3.2 Overview of procedural TMD provisions	10.14
10.3.3 Legislative changes in the pipeline	10.21
11. Proceedings Relating to EUTMs
11.1 General Rules Applying to Proceedings before the EUIPO	11.01
11.1.1 Due process: obligation to state reasons, right to be heard	11.03
11.1.1.1 Obligation to state reasons	11.04
11.1.1.2 Right to be heard	11.06
11.1.2 Ex officio examination vs. party disposition	11.07
11.1.2.1 Extent of ex officio examination	11.08
11.1.2.2 Restriction to facts, evidence, and arguments of the parties in inter partes proceedings	11.09
11.1.2.3 National law in EUIPO proceedings	11.10

11.1.3	Notifications and communications to the Office	11.11
11.1.3.1	Notifications by the Office	11.11
11.1.3.2	Communications to the Office	11.16
11.1.4	Timelimits	11.17
11.1.4.1	Calculation of time limits	11.17
11.1.4.2	Extensions of time	11.18
11.1.4.3	Continuation of proceedings and restitutio in integrum	11.20
11.1.5	Languages	11.23
11.1.6	Fees and payments to the Office	11.26
11.1.7	Representation	11.28
11.2	Application Proceedings	11.31
11.2.1	Basic steps, duration	11.31
11.2.2	Applicant	11.33
11.2.3	Content and filing of the application	11.34
11.2.3.1	Content of the application	11.34
11.2.3.2	Way of filing	11.36
11.2.3.3	Filing fees	11.37
11.2.3.4	Classification	11.38
11.2.3.5	Fast Track	11.43
11.2.3.6	Priority and seniority claims	11.44
11.2.4	Formal examination, search, substantive examination, publication, third party observations, registration	11.49
11.3	Opposition Proceedings	11.57
11.3.1	Overview	11.57
11.3.2	Relative grounds for refusal	11.58
11.3.3	Filing the opposition	11.60
11.3.3.1	Opposition period	11.60
11.3.3.2	Notice of opposition, payment of fee	11.61
11.3.3.3	Language	11.66
11.3.3.4	Multiple earlier rights	11.67
11.3.4	Examination as to admissibility and notification	11.68
11.3.5	Cooling-off period and extension thereof	11.70
11.3.6	Substantiation of the opposition	11.73
11.3.7	Response and request for proof of use	11.78
11.3.8	Exchange of written observations; proof of use	11.82
11.3.9	Extensions of time, suspension of proceedings	11.85
11.3.10	Decision, cost	11.89
11.3.11	Multiple oppositions	11.94
11.4	Cancellation Proceedings and Transfer of an Agent's Mark	11.96
11.4.1	Overview, types, and bases	11.96
11.4.2	Proceedings	11.100
11.4.2.1	Cancellation request and payment of fee	11.100
11.4.2.2	Language	11.104
11.4.2.3	Admissibility and notification, time limit for response, and proceedings	11.105

11.4.3	Resjudicata, Its pendens	11.108
11.4.4	Revocation actions	11.115
11.4.4.1	Non-use revocation actions	11.116
11.4.4.2	Revocation actions based on loss of distinctiveness or on the mark having become misleading	11.119
11.4.5	Invalidity actions based on absolute grounds	11.120
11.4.6	Invalidity actions based on relative grounds	11.127
11.4.6.1	Standing and multiple grounds for invalidity	11.129
11.4.6.2	Request for proof of use: ‘double use requirement’ and intervening rights	11.130
11.4.6.3	Consent	11.134
11.4.6.4	Preclusion	11.137
11.4.6.5	Acquiescence	11.142
11.4.7	Effect of revocation and invalidity	11.145
11.5	Withdrawal, Surrender, Division, Amendment, and Alteration	11.149
11.5.1	Withdrawal	11.149
11.5.2	Surrender	11.152
11.5.2.1	Surrender during pending revocation or invalidity action	11.154
11.5.2.2	Third party rights to the EUTM	11.155
11.5.2.3	Partial surrender	11.156
11.5.3	Division	11.158
11.5.4	Amendment and alteration of the mark	11.161
11.6	Renewal	11.163
11.7	Records and Effect vis-a-vis Third Parties	11.169
11.8	Conversion	11.172
11.9	Appeals	11.175
11.9.1	Legal bases and decisions that can be appealed	11.175
11.9.2	Party adversely affected	11.177
11.9.3	Appeal period	11.178
11.9.4	Notice of appeal, statement of grounds, cross-appeal	11.179
11.9.5	Suspensive effect	11.181
11.9.6	Admissibility and notification to respondent	11.182
11.9.7	New facts and evidence	11.184
11.9.8	Decision of the Board of Appeal	11.185
11.10	Actions to the GCEU	11.188
11.10.1	Procedural roles	11.189
11.10.2	Time limit and filing the application	11.191
11.10.3	Content of the application, and language regime	11.193
11.10.4	Proceedings before the GCEU	11.195
11.10.5	Subject matter of the application, and new facts and evidence	11.199
11.10.6	Form of order and cost decision, and fixing of costs	11.200
11.11	Appeal to the CJEU	11.202

12.	International Registration (Madrid System)
12.1	Introduction	12.01
12.2	EUIPO as Office of Origin	12.03
12.2.1	Connection with the EU	12.04
12.2.2	International application at the EUIPO	12.05
12.2.3	International registration at WIPO	12.09
12.2.4	Substantial examination in designated Contracting Parties	12.15
12.2.5	Conversion and transformation in case of central attack	12.20
12.2.6	Term of protection and renewal	12.24
12.3	EU as Designated Contracting Party	12.25
12.3.1	Initial and subsequent designation	12.26
12.3.2	Seniority claims	12.29
12.3.3	Replacement	12.32
12.3.4	Conversion in the form of subsequent designation	12.33
12.4	Recordal of Changes and Transactions	12.36

IV ENFORCEMENT

13. Civil Sanctions and Proceedings

13.1	Introduction	13.01
13.1.1	Overview	13.01
13.1.2	Civil litigation and actions before the offices	13.03
13.1.2.1	Binary nature of the EUTM system	13.03
13.1.2.2	Raising invalidity or liability to revocation in infringement proceedings	13.06
13.1.2.3	Coordination of proceedings in case of invalidity or revocation requests	13.08
13.1.2.4	Lack of coordination concerning infringement proceedings	13.14
13.2	Jurisdiction in Civil Litigation: Competence of Courts	13.16
13.2.1	Overview	13.16
13.2.2	Lawsuits involving national rights: The Brussels Regulation	13.20
13.2.2.1	Scope and structure	13.20
13.2.2.2	Special jurisdiction	13.25
13.2.2.3	Exclusive jurisdiction	13.43
13.2.2.4	Lis pendens and torpedo claims	13.47
13.2.2.5	Preliminary measures	13.52
13.2.2.6	Recognition and enforcement	13.55
13.2.3	EU Trade Marks	13.59
13.2.3.1	EUTM courts and scope of competence	13.59
13.2.3.2	Coordination of actions regarding national marks and EUTMs	13.63
13.2.3.3	Relationship with the BR	13.65

13.3 Applicable Law	13.73
13.3.1 Overview	13.73
13.3.2 Contracts: Rome I	13.74
13.3.3 Infringements: Rome II	13.75
13.3.3.1 National rights	13.75
13.3.3.2 Unitary rights	13.79
13.4 Sanctions for Infringement	13.88
13.4.1 The enforcement directive	13.88
13.4.2 Injunctions	13.93
13.4.2.1 Permanent injunctions	13.93
13.4.2.2 Preliminary injunctions and other precautionary measures	13.96
13.4.3 Damages	13.105
13.4.3.1 Compensation for actual loss	13.105
13.4.3.2 Infringer's profits	13.114
13.4.3.2 Legal costs	13.117
13.4.4 Disclosure of information or evidence	13.120
13.4.5 Corrective measures	13.123
13.4.6 Publicity	13.126
13.4.7 Liability of Internet service providers	13.128
13.4.7.1 Overview	13.128
13.4.7.2 Germany (' Störerhaftung ')	13.133
13.4.7.3 United Kingdom	13.139
13.4.7.4 The Netherlands	13.142
13.4.8 Safeguards in the interest of alleged infringers	13.147
14. Administrative Measures
14.1 Introduction	14.01
14.1.1 Overview	14.01
14.1.2 Harmonization of border measures	14.04
14.2 Eligibility for Customs Action	14.05
14.2.1 Types of marks	14.05
14.2.2 Persons and entities	14.06
14.2.3 Goods suspected of infringement	14.09
14.2.3.1 Concept of infringement	14.11
14.2.3.2 Territorial aspects	14.20
14.3 Procedure	14.30
14.3.1 Application for customs action	14.30
14.3.1.1 Relevant information	14.32
14.3.1.2 Timelines and action periods	14.33
14.3.1.3 Notification obligations and amendment option	14.35
14.3.1.4 Suspension of release or detention of goods	14.37
14.3.1.5 Inspection, samples, and use of information	14.39
14.3.1.6 Liability	14.41
14.3.2 Ex officio customs action	14.43

14.4	Measures	14.46
14.4.1	Simplified procedure	14.47
14.4.1.1	(Presumed) agreement of declarant or holder	14.50
14.4.1.2	Disagreement of declarant or holder	14.52
14.4.2	Small consignments	14.56
14.4.3	Final destruction	14.60
15. Criminal Sanctions
15.1	Introduction	15.01
15.1.1	General principles	15.01
15.1.2	Harmonization efforts	15.05
15.2	Criminal Sanctions in the Member States	15.08
15.2.1	National law	15.08
15.2.1.1	Prerequisites and maximum penalties	15.08
15.2.1.2	Formalities and procedures	15.11
15.2.2	Critical cases	15.15
15.2.2.1	Non-origin infringement	15.15
15.2.2.2	Ordinary infringements	15.21
15.2.2.3	Private use	15.23
15.2.2.4	Contributory infringement	15.27
Bibliography		737
Index		767