
JOURNALISM'S ROVING EYE

A HISTORY OF AMERICAN FOREIGN REPORTING

John Maxwell Hamilton

LOUISIANA STATE UNIVERSITY PRESS

BATON ROUGE

2

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments xv

Introduction 1

1. The Manners and Customs of All Nations 11
2. I Rise to Be Useful 19
3. Tomorrow's Mail 27
4. Dishing the Foreign News 36
5. Mr. Kendall's Express 48
6. Foreign Commissioner for the Tribune 57
7. Find Livingstone 76
8. A Minute . . . Over the Newspaper . . . Before Breakfast 89
9. Thinking with Their Thoughts 110
10. A Bell-Ringer 124
11. L'Homme Enchaîné 142
12. The Highest Realm 156
13. My Own Job in My Own Way 192
14. Who's Who 218
15. New Worlds to Conquer 244
16. Send the Whole Bunch of Them Packing 264
17. Gimme the Air! 283
18. Hey Soldier, I'm Wounded! 308
19. Two Warring Ideals in One Dark Body 331
20. The Strange Case of Edgar Snow 350

CONTENTS

- 21. Why Don't You Get on the Team? 382
 - 22. Dossing Down 418
 - 23. The Correspondent's Kit 437
 - 24. The Natural History of Foreign Correspondence 458
- Notes 489
- A Note on Sources 599
- Index 627