

's Economics an . Evolutionary S.cience?

The Legacy of Thorstein Veblen

Edited by

Francisco Louca

*Professor of Economics,
ISEG, Technical University of Lisbon,
Portugal*

Mark Perlman

*Professor of Economics, Emeritus,
University of Pittsburgh,
USA*

European-Association for Evolutionary Political Economy

Edward Elgar

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

| | | |
|-----------------------------|-------|------|
| List of Figures | | vii |
| List of Tables / | • | viii |
| List of Contributors | . , • | ix |

1. Introduction
Francisco Louca and Mark Perlman

PART I - VEBLEN'S CHALLENGE

2. Mind-sets, and why Veblen was Ineffectual 13
Mark Perlman
3. How can Economics be an Institutional-Evolutionary Science? 25
Phillip A. O'Hara
4. Thorstein Veblen and the Political Economy of the Ordinary: Hope and Despair 41
Alan W. Dyer
5. Veblen and Theories of the 'Firm' 54
Anne Mayhew
6. Institutional Economics and the Specificity of Social Evolution: About the Contribution of J.R. Commons 64
Laure Bazzoli
1. The Significance of Clarence Ayres and the Texas School 83
James R. Stanfield and Jacqueline B. Stanfield

| | |
|--|-----|
| 8. Bounded Rationality, Institutionalism and the Diversity of Economic Institutions Ugo Pagano | 95 |
| / | |
| 9. Is Economics an Evolutionary Science? FrankHahn | 114 |
| PART II - THE CHALLENGE RECONSIDERED | |
| 10. The Travelling Salesman Returns from the War: Tjalling Koopmans and Wartime Studies for Peacetime Applications Albert Jolink | 727 |
| 11. Is Capitalism Doomed? A Nobel Discussion Francisco Loucd | 138 |
| 12. An Institutionalist Foundation for Development Studies: Re-thinking Polanyi and Veblen on the Sonderweg Eyup Ozveren | 153 |
| 13. The Future's Unknowability: Keynes's Probability, Probable Knowledge and the Decision to Innovate Marco Crocco | 173 |
| PART III - PERSPECTIVES | |
| 14. Instituted Economic Processes, Increasing Returns and Endogenous Growth J.S. Metcalfe | 197 |
| Index | 227 |