

The Collected Works of
James M. Buchanan

VOLUME 19
Ideas, Persons, and Events

LIBERTY FUND
Indianapolis

Contents

Foreword	xī
----------	----

1. Autobiographical and Personal Reflections

Born-Again Economist	3
From the Inside Looking Out	18
Italian Retrospective	28
Political Economy: 1957-82	38
Virginia Political Economy: Some Personal Reflections	50
A Theory of Truth in Autobiography { James M. Buchanan and Robert D. Tollison }	64

2. Reflections on Fellow Political Economists

Frank H. Knight: 1885-1972	77
Knight, Frank H.	86
The Qualities of a Natural Economist	95
Preface to Essays on Unorthodox Economic Strategies: A Memorial Volume in Honor of Winston C. Bush	108
Jack Wiseman: A Personal Appreciation	110

I Did Not Call Him "Fritz": Personal Recollections of Professor F. A. v. Hayek	116
Methods and Morals in Economics: The Ayres-Knight Discussion	123
Economists and the Gains-from-Trade	135
Shackle and a Lecture in Pittsburgh	153
Review of Imagination and the Nature of Choice	158
Review of Politics and Markets: The World's Political Economic Systems	162
Liberty, Market and State	165

3. Political Economy in the Post-Socialist Century

America's Third Century in Perspective	173
Analysis, Ideology and the Events of 1989	187
Politicized Economies in Limbo: America, Europe and the World, 1994	199
The Epistemological Feasibility of Free Markets	210
Consumption without Production: The Impossible Idyll of Socialism	221
Economics in the Post-Socialist Century	239
Post-Socialist Political Economy	248
The Triumph of Economic Science: Is Fukuyama Wrong and, If So, Why?	263
Public Choice after Socialism	276

4. Reform without Romance

Adam Smith as Inspiration	289
The Potential for Politics after Socialism	304

Ideas, Institutions, and Political Economy:

A Plea for Disestablishment	318
Can Policy Activism Succeed? A Public-Choice Perspective	331
Society and Democracy	344
Reform without Romance: First Principles in Political Economy	356
Name Index	365
Subject Index	369