

The Economic Institutions of Higher Education

Economic Theories of University Behavior

J. Patrick Raines

*Professor of Economics and F. Carlyle Tiller Chair in Business
University of Richmond, USA*

Charles G. Leathers

*Professor of Economics
University of Alabama, USA*

Edward Elgar

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

1. Introduction	1
The Applicability of Economic Analysis	3
Economics of Higher Education: Recent Studies	4
Economic Perspectives on Universities' Behavior	5
Modeling Universities' Decision-making Processes	6
The Foundational Work of Adam Smith and Thorstein Veblen	7
Organization of the Book	10
2. Historical Development of Universities	15
Medieval Universities	17
The English Universities	21
The Scottish Universities	30
The New German Universities	40
The Emergence of Modern American Universities	44
3. Adam Smith on Failures of English Universities	54
The Institutional Nature of Universities	57
Smith's Criticism of Universities	59
Proposals for Reform	68
Incompleteness, Weaknesses, and Contradictions	69
4. John Stuart Mill on Universities	74
The Special Social Functions of Universities	75
Why the English Universities Were Failing	78
Mill's Economic Analysis of Universities' Failures	80
Government Schools vs. Private Schools	85
5. Veblen on Failures of American Universities	90
The Social Importance of Knowledge	92
The Social Functions of Universities	94
Universities and the Principle of Institutional Specialization	94
Evolutionary Development of Modern 'University Corporations'	96
Institutional Failures of American Universities	102
Transitional Statement	119
6. Veblen's Economic 'Model' of University Behavior	120
Universities as Non-Profit Corporations	121
Endowed Institutions	122
Identities and Motives of Discretionary Officials	123

Modeling Institutional Behavior	134
Institutional Drift and 'Proposals' for Reform	138
7. Riesman on Veblen and Modern Universities	144
Riesman's Critique of Veblen and the Higher Learning	145
Riesman on Modern Universities: An Era of Faculty Dominance	151
Riesman's 'Era of Rising Student Consumerism'	158
8. The Buchanan–Devletoglou Economic Model of Universities	163
The Taxpayers' Representatives: Governing Boards	171
Students as Consumers Who Do Not Pay	172
Control of Universities by Faculties Who Do Not Sell	173
The Nature and Causes of Universities' Failures	175
Lack of Competition	180
The Crisis on Campuses	181
9. Recent Economic Models of Higher Education	186
Economic Models of Non-Profit Institutions	187
Garvin's Economic Model of University Behavior	189
The University as an Organization: The Prestige Objective	191
Garvin's Formal Model	201
10. Meeting the Challenge: Explaining the Emergence of 'Entrepreneurial Universities' and 'Academic Capitalism'	210
First Phase	210
Second Phase	212
The Challenge for Economic Models of Universities' Behavior	213
Overview	213
The Emergence of 'Entrepreneurial Universities'	214
The Consequences of 'Entrepreneurial' Research by Universities	215
An Alternative View	218
The 'Commoditization of Instruction'	219
Explaining the Emergence of 'Entrepreneurial Universities'	222
A Veblenian Perspective	224
Smith and Veblen on 'Entrepreneurial Universities'	227
Bibliography	231
Index	239