

- War

Essays in Political Philosophy

Edited by

LARRY MAY

Washington University in St. Louis

WITH THE ASSISTANCE OF EMILY CROOKSTON

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Contributors		page vii
Introduction	i'	1
Larry May and Emily Crookslon
I HISTORICAL BACKGROUND
1 Jus ad Bellum		11
Gregory M. Reichberg
2 The Jus in Bello in Historical and Philosophical Perspective		30
Nicholas Rengger
II INITIATING WAR
3 The Principle of Just Cause		49
Larry May
4 Aggression and Punishment		67
Jeff McMahan
5 Responding to Humanitarian Crises		85
Cindy Holder
6 War and Democracy		105
James Bohman
III WAGING WAR
7 Proportionality and Necessity		127
„Thomas Hurka
8 Collateral Damage		145
David Lefkowitz

9	Weapons of Mass Destruction: Are They Morally Special? Steven P. Lee	165
10	Justifying Torture as an Act of War Michael Davis	187
11	On Terrorism: Definition, Defense, and Women Marilyn Friedman	204
IV ENDING WAR
12	War's Aftermath: The Challenges of Reconciliation Trudy Govier	229
13	Amnesties and International Law Christopher Heath Wellman	249
14	War Crimes: The Law of Hell David Luban	266
15	Revenge and Demonization Nancy Sherman	289
	Bibliography	307
	Index	321"