

Jakub M. Godzimirski
Editor

New Political Economy of Energy in Europe

Power to Project, Power to Adapt

palgrave
macmillan

CONTENTS

1	Introduction: The EU and the Changing (Geo)Politics of Energy in Europe	1
	Jakub M. Godzimirski and Ole Gunnar Austvik
Part I	Inside Out: Projecting EU Rules and Ideas	25
2	Regulatory or Market Power Europe? EU Leadership Models for International Energy Governance	27
	Andreas Goldthau and Nick Sitter
3	The EU's Strategy Towards External Gas Suppliers and Their Responses: Norway, Russia, Algeria and LNG	49
	Svein S. Andersen and Nick Sitter
4	EU Climate and Energy Policy: New Challenges for Old Energy Suppliers	73
	Indra Overland

Part II Outside In: National Adaptations	103
5 Channels of Influence or How Non-Members Can Influence EU Energy Policy Jakub M. Godzimirski	105
6 Norway: Small State in the Great European Energy Game Ole Gunnar Austvik	139
7 Germany's Energiewende: Climate Change in Focus— Competitiveness and Energy Security Sidelined? Kirsten Westphal	165
8 Poland: Coping with the Challenges of Decarbonization and Diversification Aleksandra Gawlikowska-Fyk	195
9 The Baltics: Between Competition and Cooperation Vija Pakalkaitė and Joshua Posaner	215
10 Conclusions: What Has the EU Achieved, and What Is in the Offing? Jakub M. Godzimirski	239
Index	255