

The Michelin Men

Driving an Empire

Herbert R. Lottman

CONTENTS

Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
1 A Little Red Book	1
2 Prehistory	5
3 A Michelin in the Family	11
4 The Brothers Miraculous	16
5 A Tyre is Born	21
6 Of Bikes, Cabs and Motorcars	27
7 Paris—Bordeaux or Bust	34
8 Bibendum	39
9 1900	44
10 Coming of Age	51
11 Friend of the People	58
12 Exporting the Michelin Way	63
13 Room at the Top	74
14 At Home	82
15 Andre's Air War	89
16 Andre's Battles	100
17 More Serious Business	107
18 Of Bombs and Tyres	114
19 Tourists on the Battlefield	124
20 After the Armistice	132
21 Post-war Problems	137
22 Another Andre	142
23 Those Stars	146
24 Prosperity	151
25 Downturn	156
26 Death of a Michelin	163
27 Revolutionary Fronts	169
28 Clermont and Vichy	176
29 Michelin's Choice	184
30 New Beginnings	190
31 The Guide in a Time of Scarcity	195
32 Bad Times and Good Hopes	200

33	The Guide at Fifty	205
34	The Future and Francois	212
35	America Ma Piano	218
36	The Red and the Green	225
37	Michelin International	234
38	The Road Back	241
39	Global Guide	249
40	Michelin in our Time	263
41	Bibendum's Big Business	267
42	The Next Turn in the Road	272
	Notes on the Text	279
	Index	307