

The New Balancing Act in the Business of Higher Education

Edited by

Robert Clark

North Carolina State University, USA

and

Madeleine d'Ambrosio

TIAA-CREF Institute, USA

Edward Elgar

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

List of contributors	vii
-----------------------------	-----

Foreword Herbert M. Allison, Jr.	ix
---	----

INTRODUCTION

1 Walking the financial tightrope: balancing costs and revenues with commitment to mission Robert L. Clark and Madeleine B. d'Ambrosio	3
2 American higher education: the new balancing act Stanley O. Ikenberry	18

PART 1 ENHANCING REVENUES AT COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

3 Enhancing institutional revenues: constraints, possibilities and the question of values James C. Hearn	27
4 Higher education: meeting today's challenges and regaining the public's trust William E. Kirwan	46
5 Negotiating a new relationship with the state: the Virginia experience David W. Breneman and H. Lane Kneedler	54
6 Money for something - but what? David A. Longanecker	75
7 Regaining the trust in higher education Benjamin F. Quillian	91

PART II CHANGING FACULTY EMPLOYMENT PRACTICES

8 The changing nature of the faculty and faculty employment practices Ronald G. Ehrenberg	103
---	-----

9	The faculty of tomorrow's research universities John Edward Sexton	118
10	Of canaries, storms and Dickens: finding balance for faculty in public higher education Kermit L. Hall and Robert W. Wagner	132
11	Socrates, Thoreau and the status quo Cathy A. Trower	149
PART III IMPLEMENTING CHANGE AT COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES
12	Institutional change: the why and the how Kenneth A. Shaw	163
13	Effecting institutional change through innovative capital financing 1 ' Michael F. Adams	175
14	Implementing renewal and change Robert H. Bruininks	184
15	Observations and reflections on organizational change Allan R. Cohen	195
	Index	207