

Development Economics. A Policy Analysis Approach

ECKHARD SIGGEL
Concordia University, Canada

ASHGATE

3.5	Inflation and Monetary Policy	76
	Case Study 6: Tax Reform in Indonesia	79
	Case Study 7: Financial Repression and Liberalization in Chile	85
4	Financing Economic Growth from External Sources	93
4.1	The Dual Role of Foreign Saving and the Two-gap Model	93
4.2	Empirical Evidence and Testing of the Two-gap Model	99
4.3	Official Development Assistance (ODA)	102
4.4	Foreign Investment	105
4.5	Foreign Borrowing and the Debt Problem	108
	Case Study 8: The Brazilian Debt Crisis	112
	Case Study 9: Constraints to Economic Growth in Kenya: The Two-Gap Model	116
5	International Trade and Development	123
5.1	Comparative Advantage and the Gains from Trade	124
5.2	Arguments in Favour of Trade Restrictions	128
5.3	Inward-oriented Trade Regimes	130
5.4	Trade Liberalization and Outward Orientation	134
5.5	Analysis of Trade Policy Reforms	136
5.6	International Trade Agreements	142
	Case Study 10: Trade Policy Reform in Senegal: 1986-1990	145
	Case Study 11: Changing Sources of Growth in the Mexican Manufacturing Sector	149
6	External Balance and the Exchange Rate	157
6.1	Review of the External Account	157
6.2	Exchange Rate Regimes and Policies	159
6.3	Policies for External Balance	161
6.4	The Real Exchange Rate as a Tool of Analysis	163
6.5	Currency Devaluation and its Consequences	167
6.6	The Dutch Disease Syndrome	168
	Case Study 12: Protection, Sector Bias and the Exchange Rate in Mexico's Trade Policy Reform	169
7	Regional Economic Integration and Monetary Union	179
7.1	The Stages of Regional Integration	179
7.2	Regionalism vs. Multilateralism	180
7.3	The Theory of Customs Unions	182
7.4	Regional Integration and Intra-Industry Trade	184
7.5	Monetary Union and Economic Integration	185

7.6	Regional Integration Attempts in less Developed Countries	187
	Case Study 13: Regional Integration in East Africa: The Case of Uganda	192
	Case Study 14: Monetary Union: The Case of the CFA Franc Zone	199
8	Stabilization, Structural Adjustment and the Role of the IMF	209
8.1	External Balance and Stabilization Policies	209
8.2	The Microeconomics of Structural Adjustment	216
8.3	The Effects of Structural Adjustment: Empirical Evidence	218
8.4	The Timing and Sequencing of Reforms	220
8.5	Social Impact and Transition Cost	221
8.6	The Role of the IMF in Structural Adjustment Programmes	221
8.7	Structural Adjustment in Sub-Saharan Africa in the 1980s	222
	Case Study 15: Structural Adjustment in Ghana	227
9	Cost-Benefit Analysis and Competitiveness	231
9.1	Approaches to Project and Industry Evaluation	231
9.2	The Net Present Value (NPV) Method	232
9.3	Accounting for Resource Scarcities and Economic Objectives	233
9.4	Estimating Shadow Prices	236
9.5	Competitiveness and Comparative Advantage	237
9.6	Conclusion	243
	Case Study 16: Competitiveness and Comparative Advantage in Indian Manufacturing	244
10	Privatization and Public Sector Reform	251
10.1	Rationale and Problems of Government Ownership	251
10.2	The Experience of SOE Reforms in Developing Countries	254
10.3	The Cost-Benefit Approach to Analyzing SOE Divestiture	256
10.4	Privatization in Central and Eastern Europe (CEE)	260
10.5	Conclusion	267
	Case Study 17: Privatization of a Mexican Airline	268