Industrial Relations in the New Europe
Enlargement, Integration and Reform

Edited by

Peter Leisink
Professor of Public Management and Organization Studies,
Utrecht University, the Netherlands

Bram Steijn
Professor of Human Resource Management in the Public Sector,
Erasmus University Rotterdam, the Netherlands

Ulke Veersma
Senior Lecturer in International HRM, University of Greenwich
Business School, London, United Kingdom

Edward Elgar
Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA
Contents

Figures vii
Tables viii
Contributors ix
Preface xi

1. Industrial Relations in the New Europe
   Peter Leisink, Bram Steijn and Ulke Veersma

PART I THE IMPACT OF EUROPEAN INTEGRATION ON INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS IN MEMBER STATES

2. European Convergence and the EU Social Model
   Kees Vos 23

3. Work and Employment Conditions in New EU Member States:
   A Different Reality?
   Daniel Vaughan-Whitehead 41

4. European Labour Standards' Impacts on Accession Countries:
   The Hungarian Case
   Laszlo Neumann 63

5. Slovenia's Integration into the European Market Economy:
   Gradualism and its 'Rigidities'
   Miroslav Stanojevic and Urban Vehovar 81

6. Consequences of Enlargement for the Old Periphery of Europe:
   Observations from the Spanish Experience with European Works Councils
   Holm-Detlev Kohler and Sergio Gonzalez Begega 99

7. Testing Times: Remaking Employment Relations through 'New' Partnership in the UK
   Mark Stuart and Miguel Martinez Lucio 115

8. The Only Game in Town? British Trade Unions and the European Union
   Erin van der Maas 131
PART II THE IMPACT OF PUBLIC MANAGEMENT REFORM IDEAS IN EUROPE ON PUBLIC SECTOR INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS

9. The End of an Era: Structural Changes in German Public Sector Collective Bargaining
   Heiner Dribbusch and Thorsten Schulten
   15

10. Reforming Employment Relations in the French, Administration Services: Is the Status of Civil Servants an Obstacle to Efficient HRM?
    Olivier Meriau'x
    177

11. Staff Participation in the Administrative Reform of the Flemish Community
    Christophe Pelgrims, Trui Steen and Nick Thijs
    191

12. Public Management Reform and Employee Voice in UK Public Services
    Geoff White, Paul Dennison, David Farnham and Sylvia Horton
    211

13. Concluding Analysis
    Peter Leisink, Bram Steijn and Ulke Veersma
    235

Index

• 257