

Troubled Industries

CONFRONTING ECONOMIC
CHANGE IN JAPAN

ROBERT M. URIU

CORNELL UNIVERSITY PRESS

Ithaca and London

Contents

List of Tables and Charts	ix
Preface	xi

PART I. THE POLITICAL ECONOMY OF INDUSTRIAL ADJUSTMENT

1. Introduction	3
2. Industrial Structure and Industry Preferences	10
3. Turning Industry Preferences into Policy Choices: The Industrial Policy-Making Environment	22

PART II. CONFRONTING ECONOMIC CHANGE

4. Politicized Industries: Cotton Spinning and Coal Mining (Type IV)	45
5. Marginalized Industries: Steel Minimills and Paper (Type III)	103
6. Flexible Industries: Synthetic Fibers and Aluminum (Type I)	148
7. Mixed-Incentive Industries: Shipbuilding and Integrated Steel (Type II)	186

PART III. INDUSTRY ACTORS, THE POLICY-MAKING ENVIRONMENT, AND POLICY CHOICES

8. The Structural Determinants of Industry Behavior	239
g. Rethinking Government-Industry Relations in Japan	249
References	265
Index	277