

Michael Kelly
Imelda Elliott
Lars Fant (eds)

Third Level, Third Space

Intercultural Communication and Language in European Higher Education

PETER LANG

Bern • Berlin • Bruxelles • Frankfurt am Main • New York • Oxford • Wien

Contents

Introduction	1
Section I: Intercultural awareness
Intercultural communication and ethical commitments in post-modernity Walter Lore/1%	13
Cross-cultural awareness in higher education Genevieve Zarate	33
Intercultural communication: the role of virtual mobility Angela Chambers	47
Section II: Intercultural communication and teaching practice
Implementing a flexible model for the teaching of intercultural communicative competence Pol Cuvelier	65
Creating awareness of identity work in conversation: a resource for language training Lars Fant	79
Case study: a joint module for first year students in two institutions in two adjoining countries Marie-France Noel and Isabelle Roblin	95
The intercultural problems involved in setting up a joint teacher training programme Shirley Lames and Marie-Jose Barbot	105
Section III: Towards a policy framework
Towards an intercultural practice of language teaching Michael Kelly	121
Intercultural communication: elements for a curricular approach Martine Abdallah-Preteuille	131
The intercultural approach and the evolution of the education system Marie-Jose Barbot and Alain Payeur	143
Institutional knowledge and intercultural communication in higher education Imelda Elliott	157
Recommendations on intercultural communication	171
Contributors	195
Resume en fran [^] ais	199
Bibliography	209