

$UPERMONEY

'ADAM
SMITH'

RANDOM HOUSE
id NEW YORK

CONTENTS

I. SUPERMONEY	i
1. Metaphysical Doubts, Very Short	3
2. Liquidity: Mr. Odd-Lot Robert Is Asked How He Feels	4
3. Supermoney, Where It Is: The Supercurrency	15
II. THE DAY THE MUSIC ALMOST DIED	29
1. The Banks June 1970	31
2. The Brokers September 1970	50
III. THE PROS	67
1. Nostalgia Time: The Great Buying Panic	69
2. An Unsuccessful Group Therapy Session for Fifteen Hundred Investment Professionals Starring the Avenging Angel	78

Contents

3. Cautionary Tales Remember These, O Brothers, in your New Hours of Triumph	96
4. How My Swiss Bank Blew $40 Million and Went Broke	111
5. Somebody Must Have Done Something Right: The Lessons of the Master	173
IV. IS THE SYSTEM BLOWN?	201
1. The Debased Language of Supercurrency	203
2. Co-opting Some of the Supercurrency	217
3. Beta, Or Speak to Me Softly in Algebra	225
Well, Watchman, What of the Night? Arthur Burns' angst; Thirteen Ways of Looking at a Blackbird; Prince Valiant and the Protestant Ethic; Work and Its Discontents; Will General Motors Believe in Harmony? Will General Electric Believe in Beauty and Truth? Of the Greening and Blueing, and Cotton Mather and Vince Lombardi and the Growth of Magic; and What Is to Be Done on Monday Morning.	237
S O M E N O T E S	291
I. Table I: Sector Statements of Saving and Investment: Households, Personal Trusts, and Nonprofit Organizations	295
II. Table II: Funds Raised, Nonfinancial Sectors	297
III. Table III: The Runoff in Commercial Paper: Summer 1970	298
IV. Portfolio of the University of Rochester	299