

The Status of Women in Classical Economic Thought

Edited by

Robert Dimand and Chris Nyland

Edward Elgar
Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

List of Contributors	•	*»	vii
Acknowledgements		•	ix
1. Gender Relations and Classical Economics - The Evolution of a Tradition Chris Nyland and Robert Dimand			1
2. Poulain de la Barre and the Rationalist Analysis of the Status of Women Chris Nyland			21
3. John Locke, Equality of Rights and Diversity of Attributes Chris Nyland			40
4. Biology and Environment: Montesquieu's Relativist Analysis of Gender Behaviour Chris Nyland			63
5. Adam Smith, Stage Theory and the Status of Women Chris Nyland			86
6. Women's Progress and 'the End of History' Chris Nyland			108
7. Condorcet and Equality of the Sexes: One of Many Fronts for a Great Fighter for Liberty of the Eighteenth Century Peter Groenewegen			127
8. Cultivating Sympathy: Sophie Condorcet's Letters on Sympathy Evelyn L. Forget			142

9.	'Let There be no Distinction Between the Sexes': Jeremy Bentham on the Status of Women Annie L. Cot	165
10.	An Eighteenth-Century English Feminist Response to Political Economy: Priscilla Wakefield's Reflections (1798) Robert Dimand	194
11.	The Market for Virtue: Jean-Baptiste Say on Women in the Economy and Society Evelyn L. Forget	206
12.	Women in Nassau Senior's Economic Thought Robert Dimand	224
13.	William Thompson and Anna Doyle Wheeler: A Marriage of Minds on Jeremy Bentham's Doorstep Chris Nyland and Tom Heenan	241
14.	Taking Harriet Martineau's Economics Seriously David M. Levy	262
15.	John Stuart Mill, Harriet Taylor and French Social Theory Evelyn L. Forget	285
	Index	311