

A Handbook on Anti-Dumping Investigations

Judith Czako
Johann Human
Jorge Miranda

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

CONTENTS

List of Tables	page xii
Foreword	xvii
Preface	xix

PART I PROCEDURES

I. Introduction	1
II. Multilateral Legal Framework	2
III. Domestic Legal Framework	3
IV. Procedural Aspects of an Anti-Dumping Investigation	6
A. Overview of an Anti-Dumping Investigation	6
V. Key Definitions and Concepts Applicable to the Investigation	9
A. Definitions	9
B. Key Concepts	13
1. "Due Process" Provisions	13
2. Treatment of Confidential Information	14
3. "Facts Available"	15
C. Verification of Information from Exporters and Importers	17
VI. The Pre-Initiation Phase of the Investigation	21
A. Basis of Initiation	21
B. Lodging of a Complaint	23
C. Minimum Information Required for an Application	23
D. Sources of Information Substantiating the Allegations of Dumping and Injury	26
E. Assistance to the Applicant	28
F. Acceptance of the Application as a "Properly Documented" Application	29
G. Evaluation of the Application	29
H. Assessing the Standing/Representativeness of Applicants	30
I. De Minimis Dumping Margins and Negligible Imports	34
J. Non-Market Economy	34
K. Decision to Initiate	35
L. Establishment of the Period of Investigation (POI)	36
M. Notice of Initiation	38

VII. The Anti-Dumping Investigation	42
A. Maximum Time-Limit of an Anti-Dumping Investigation	42
B. Planning an Investigation	43
C. Keeping a Proper Record of the Investigation	44
VIII. Steps from Initiation to the Preliminary Determination	46
A. Transmittal of Copies of the Application	46
B. Issuance of Questionnaires	47
1. Selection of Respondents among Foreign Producers, Exporters, and Importers	47
2. Domestic Producers	49
3. Importers	50
4. Purchasers	50
5. Applicable Deadlines	50
C. Processing of Questionnaire Replies	51
1. Receipt of Questionnaire Replies according to Applicable Deadlines	51
2. Conformity with Rules on Submission of Confidential Information	51
3. Access to Information	52
4. Exchange of Documents among Parties and Administrative Protective Orders (APOs)	52
5. Requests for Missing or Additional Information and Clarification	53
D. Accreditation Requirements	53
E. Analysis of the Information	54
F. Preliminary Determination	54
G. Drafting the Public Notice of a Preliminary Determination	56
H. Modalities of Provisional Measures	57
I. Individual Rates/"Limited Examination" Rates/"All Others" Rates	60
J. Duration of Provisional Measures	62
K. Public Notice of Preliminary Determination and Imposition of Provisional Measures	63
L. Notification of the Preliminary Determination	63
IX. Steps from the Preliminary Determination to the Final Determination	67
A. "Disclosure" Meetings	67
B. Submission of Written Comments Regarding the Preliminary Determination	67
C. Requests for Supplemental Information	68
D. Hearings	69
E. Timing of the Final Determination	71
F. Preparation of Staff Reports for the Purposes of the Final Determination	72
1. Closing the Record	72
2. Preparation of the Staff Report for the Final Determination	72

G.	Disclosure of "Essential Facts" to Interested Parties	72
H.	Public Notice of a Final Determination	73
I.	Consideration of whether to Impose Definitive Measures, or not, in the Case of Affirmative Final Determinations	75
J.	Consideration of Price Undertakings	76
K.	Special Rules for Exports of Developing Countries	79
L.	Retroactive Collection of Definitive Duties	80
M.	Notification of the Final Determination	82
N.	"Disclosure Meetings" following the Final Determination	83
X.	Legal Review before Domestic Tribunals	83
XI.	Legal Review in WTO Dispute Settlement	87
XII.	Reviews	88
A.	Five-Year ("Sunset" or "Expiry") Reviews	88
B.	"Interim" or "Changed Circumstances" Reviews	89
C.	Review of Undertakings	90
D.	New Shipper Reviews	90
XIII.	Refund or Reimbursement of Excess Duties Paid	91

PART II DUMPING MARGIN CALCULATIONS

I.	Introduction	97
A.	Definition of the Subject Product	98
B.	Distinction between "Subject Product" and "Like Product"	98
C.	Classification of Data by Model	99
II.	Case-Study I	100
A.	Definition of the Subject Product	100
B.	Identification of Models	101
C.	Determination of Export Prices	102
1.	General Methodology	102
D.	Determination of Normal Value	110
1.	General Methodology	110
E.	Calculation of the Dumping Margin	120
1.	General Methodology	120
III.	Case-Study II	130
A.	Determination of Export Prices	130
1.	Constructing the Export Price	130
2.	Calculation of the Export Price on the Basis of Constructed Export Prices and Actual Reported Export Prices	146
3.	Currency Conversions when Exchange Rate is not Constant	146
B.	Determination of Normal Value	148
1.	Sales to Related Parties	150
2.	Sales at Prices Below Cost	150
3.	Adjustments	182

C.	Calculation of the Dumping Margin	187
1.	Weighted Average to Weighted Average Basis	187
2.	Transaction-to-Transaction Basis	189
IV.	Flow Charts	200

PART III INJURY AND CAUSATION DETERMINATION

I.	Introduction	225
II.	Steps in the Injury Phase of an Anti-Dumping Investigation	226
III.	Review and Evaluation of the Application for Anti-Dumping Relief	228
A.	Initiation Requirements	228
B.	The Contents of the Application for Anti-Dumping Relief - Evidence of Injury and Causation	229
C.	Examination of the Accuracy and Adequacy of Information Relating to Injury and Causation	231
IV.	Preliminary Evaluation of Potential Issues	231
A.	Products, Parties, and Time Periods Involved in the Investigation	232
1.	The Product(s) within the Parameters of the Injury Investigation	232
2.	Identification of Firms Comprising the Domestic Industry	233
3.	Defining the Period of Investigation	236
B.	Additional Issues to be Considered in the Investigation	237
1.	Issues Unique to the Particular Industry	237
2.	Business Cycles and Seasonality	237
V.	Gathering Industry Information and Preparing Questionnaires	238
A.	Identifying Sources of Information from the Application	239
1.	Domestic Producers	239
2.	Foreign Producers, Exporters, and Importers	240
3.	Purchasers	241
B.	Identifying Other Sources of Information	242
VI.	Form and Content of Questionnaires	244
A.	Sample Injury Questionnaires	245
1.	Sample Questionnaires	245
2.	General Questionnaire Requirements	246
B.	Information to be Requested in Questionnaires	246
1.	Questions Relating to the Product	250
2.	Questions Relating to the Domestic Industry	251
3.	Questions Relating to Volume of Imports	253
4.	Questions Relating to Pricing	255
5.	Questions Regarding Factors Bearing on Condition of the Domestic Industry	257
6.	Questions Relating to Negligibility and Cumulation	259

1.	Questions Relating to Causation	260
8.	Questions Relating to the Assessment of Threat of Material Injury	262
9.	Questions Concerning Unique Circumstances of the Industry	262
10.	Instructions and Notifications	263
VII.	Transmitting and Processing Questionnaires and Conducting Hearings	265
A.	Questionnaire Review by Parties and Opportunity to Comment on Draft Questionnaires	265
B.	Timing of Questionnaires and Responses	266
C.	Processing of Questionnaires	267
1.	Checking for Missing Information and Follow-up	267
2.	Checking the Accuracy of the Information Submitted	267
3.	Preparation of a Factual Report	268
D.	Conducting Hearings	270
1.	Procedural Matters	272
2.	Questioning of Witnesses	272
VIII.	Legal and Economic Analysis	273
A.	Injury as a Legal Concept	273
1.	Material Injury	274
2.	Threat of Material Injury	274
3.	Material Retardation	276
B.	Like Product	276
C.	Domestic Industry	278
1.	"Domestic Production"	279
2.	Related Parties and Importing Domestic Producers	279
D.	Cumulation	281
E.	Examining the Impact of Dumped Imports	283
1.	Analysis of Trends	285
2.	Econometric Analyses and Economic Models	286
3.	Volume of Imports	287
4.	Prices	287
5.	Actual and Potential Declines in Sales	289
6.	Actual and Potential Declines in Profits	290
7.	Actual and Potential Declines in Output	290
8.	Actual and Potential Declines in Market Share	291
9.	Actual and Potential Declines in Productivity	292
10.	Actual and Potential Declines in Return on Investments	293
11.	Actual and Potential Declines in Utilization of Production Capacity	294
12.	Factors Affecting Domestic Prices	294
13.	Magnitude of the Margin of Dumping	294
14.	Actual and Potential Negative Effects on Cash Flow	295
15.	Actual and Potential Negative Effects on Inventories	296

16.	Actual and Potential Negative Effects on Employment and Wages	296
17.	Actual and Potential Negative Effects on Growth	297
18.	Actual and Potential Negative Effects on Ability to Raise Capital or Investments	297
F.	Causation - Examining Other Causes of Injury	297
1.	Volumes and Prices of Imports not Sold at Dumped Prices	298
2.	Contraction in Demand or Changes in the Pattern of Consumption	300
3.	Trade-Restrictive Practices of and Competition between Foreign and Domestic Producers	300
4.	Developments in Technology	301
5.	Export Performance and Productivity of the Domestic Industry	301
G.	Imposition of Anti-Dumping Duties and Lesser Duty	302
H.	Public Interest	304
IX.	Drafting Injury Determinations	305
A.	Preliminary Determinations	305
B.	Final Determinations	306
X.	Case-Study on Injury	306
A.	Introduction to the Case-Study on Injury	307
1.	Background	307
2.	Parameters of this Case-Study	308
B.	Like Product	308
1.	The Product under Investigation	308
2.	The "Like Product"	310
C.	Domestic Industry	316
1.	Sufficiency of Domestic Production	317
2.	Exclusion of Related Parties or Importing Producers from the Domestic Industry	319
D.	Cumulation	322
1.	Countries Simultaneously Subject to Investigation	323
2.	De Minimis Dumping Margins	323
3.	Negligibility	324
4.	Conditions of Competition	327
E.	Material Injury Analysis	331
1.	Volume of Cumulated Imports	332
2.	Price Effects	335
3.	Analysis of Impact on the Domestic Industry	347
4.	Causation	355
F.	Threat of Material Injury	361
1.	Analysis of Threat Factors	363
2.	"Clearly Foreseen and Imminent"	371
G.	Summary Data - Impact on Domestic Industry	372

ANNEXES

ANNEX I: Sample Application	378
ANNEX II: Sample Dumping Investigation Questionnaire	408
ANNEX III: Sample Injury Investigation Questionnaires	435
ANNEX IV: Relevant WTO Legal Texts	482

Index	511
--------------	-----