

An Introduction to the Market System

Kalman Goldberg

C

Armonk, New York
London, England

About Economics

1. Economists' Methods

Economic Problems: Timeless-Universal and Historico-Relative 2
Economists' Methods.....3
 Descriptive (Positive) Economics, Normative Economics, Policy
The Economist's Role.....7
Appendix: Using Graphs.....9

2. Why Are There Economic Systems?

Scarcity: The Basic Economic Problem.....15
Human Wants, Goods and Services, Factors of Production
 What, How, and For Whom to Produce.....19
What to Produce, How to Produce! For Whom to Produce
 The Forms of Economic Activity.....24
Production, Distribution, Consumption, Exchange
 Economic Systems.....32
 The Three Types, Responses to the Challenges of Scarcity
 Conclusion

Microeconomics: The Market System: How It Works

3. The Emergence of the Market System

Feudalism: A Traditional Society.....43
 The Manorial System and the Law of Scarcity, The Spirit of the Age
Feudalism's Demise.....46
 The Crusades, Technological Developments, Enclosures,
 The Itinerant Merchant, The Rise of the Nation-State,
 The Spirit of the New Age
Mercantilism.....50
 The New Nation-States, The Command Economy, Significance
Embarking on the Market System.....53
 Background, Jeremy Bentham, Adam Smith, Review, Smith and the Causes of the Wealth of Nations, The Challenge of the Market System

- 4. The Market System's Institutions
 - The Market System as a Model.....62
 - Features of Perfectly Competitive Markets.....63
 - Humans Rationally Pursue Economic Self-interest, Economic Activity Consists of Making Exchanges, Economic Activity Occurs in Markets
 - The Decision Makers.....65
 - Households, Business Firms, Interaction of Households and Business Firms
 - Institutional Requirements.....70
 - Private Property, Personal Liberties, Sanctity of Contract, Money and Prices, Competition
 - The Price Mechanism74
 - What to Produce, How to Produce, For Whom to Produce, The Role of Government
 - Normative Results in the Market System.....76
 - A Note of Caution.....77
- 5. The Perfectly Competitive Market System: What to Produce
 - Characteristics of Perfectly Competitive Markets.....84
 - Homogeneous Product, Well-Organized, Many Small, Independent Buyers and Sellers, No Friction, No Advertising, The Rational Pursuit of Self-Interest
 - The Product Markets.....86
 - The Theory of Individual Consumer Demand, the Business Firm's Supply, Market Price and Quantity: Equilibrium, How the Price Mechanism Determines What to Produce, Normative Results in the Product Markets
 - Appendix 1: Changing What to Produce in the Market System113
 - Appendix 2: Determining Whether to Shut Down Production117
- 6. The Perfectly Competitive Market System: How and For Whom to Produce
 - The Factor Markets.....128
 - The Business Firm's Demand for Labor, the Labor Supply Curve, Determining the Wage Rate, How the Price Mechanism Determines For Whom and How to Produce
 - Normative Results of the Perfectly Competitive Market System.... 143

The Market System in the United States

7. Other Market Structures: Imperfect Competition
Contemporary Market Structures.....151
 Perfect Competition, Pure Monopoly, Oligopoly,
 Monopolistic Competition
Business Organizations.....159
Gaining and Maintaining Economic Control.....172
Are Consumers Really Sovereign?.....176
Appendix: Bond Prices and Their Yields.....182

8. Our Labor Markets
The Labor Force.....187
 Who Does the Work? In Which Industries Do We Work?
 What Kind of Work Do We Do? How Much Do We Earn?
 How Steady is Our Employment? How Easily Can
 We Move to the Top? Conclusion
Labor Unions and Collective Bargaining.....198
 Who Are the Union Members? An Historical Perspective,
 Collective Bargaining

9. For Whom Are We Producing?
Income Distribution.....219
 Some Data on Income Shares
Explanations of Income Inequality.....221
 Supply Side Explanations, Demand Side Explanations
Normative Judgments on Income Inequality.....231
Poverty: the Tail End.....233
 Societal vs Post-Industrial Poverty, Definition of Poverty,
 Who Are the Poor? Causes of Poverty,
 Some Policy Approaches, Conclusions

10. The Role of Government in the Market System
Government Functions and Expenditures.....248
Reasons for Growth of Government Spending.....248
The Functions of Government.....251
 Protecting the Environment: A Government
Regulation Issue.....265
Taxation.....272
 Sources and Uses of Tax Revenue, The Tax Burden,
 Evaluating Taxes
Appendix: Computing the Income Tax.....282

The Market System in the Global Economy

11. World Markets: International Trade

Why Trade?.....	289
Restrictions on International Trade.....	292
The Mechanics of International Trade.....	297
The Balance of Payments, The Foreign Exchange Market

12. Economic Development in the Developing and Transitional Economies

The Economic Plight of the World's Poor Countries.....	313
What is Economic Development?.....	315
Transforming the Economy.....	317
Land and Natural Resources, Capital, Population and Labor Force, Policy Alternatives
The Transitional Economies.....	334
The Failure of the Command Society, Requirements for Successful Transformation, Gradualism vs the Big Bang, Conclusion

Macroeconomics: The Problems of Instability and Economic Growth

13. Measuring the Nation's Income and Gross Domestic Product

Business Cycles.....	345
What We Measure and Why.....	348
Final Product and Value Added
The Economy's Sectors.....	353
Appendix: Macroeconomic Circular Flows.....	356

14. Recessions, Inflation, and Economic Growth

Aggregate Demand.....	366
Propensity to Consume, Investment Expenditures
Equilibrium.....	380
The Multiplier.....	386
Price Level Changes.....	387
The Growth Machine.....	398

75. Stabilizing the Market Economy: Fiscal Policy

The Background and Techniques of Fiscal Policy.....	409
Theory Assumptions, Discretionary Fiscal Policy, Automatic Stabilizers
Some Problems With Fiscal Policy.....	422
Government Deficits and Government Debt.....	425

16. Stabilizing the Market Economy: Monetary Policy

- U.S. Money.....438
- Federal Policy Goals.....441
- Controlling Reserves, Interest Rates and Lending.....442
- Other Functions and Controls of the Federal Reserve.....447
- An Evaluation of Monetary Policy.....448
- Appendix: Multiple Expansion of Demand Deposits.....451

Index.....461

About the Author.....485