

Working Women

INTO THE BORDERLANDS

Sonia Hernandez

Foreword by Sterling Evans

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY

College Station, Texas

Contents

FOREWORD , by Sterling Evans	IX
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	XI
INTRODUCTION: Norteno History as Borderlands History	1
One. Selling the Norteno Borderlands: Capital, Land, and Labor	17
Two. Peasant Women's Work in a Changing Countryside during the Porfiriato	35
Three. "We cannot suffer any longer from the patron's bad treatment": Everyday Forms of Peasant Negotiation	61
Four. (En)Gendering Revolution in the Borderlands: Revolucionarias , Combatants, and Supporters in the Northeast	83
Five. Women's Labor and Activism in the Greater Mexican Borderlands, 1910-1930	107
Six. Class, Gender, and Power in the Postrevolutionary Borderlands	123
EPILOGUE	141
APPENDIX ONE. Selected Mutual-Aid Societies and Related Collective Organizations in the Mexican Northeast, 1880-1910	145
APPENDIX TWO. Selected Organizations in Texas Affiliated with the Partido Liberal Mexicano, 1911-1917	149
APPENDIX THREE. Selected Estatutos (By-Laws) and Artkulos of the Union de Obreras "Fraternidad Femenil" (Xicotencatl, Tamaulipas)	151
NOTES	155
BIBLIOGRAPHY	195
INDEX	217