

Productivity

New Economic and Socio-Economic Approaches

Edited by

Jean Gadrey

Professor of Economics, University of Lille 1, France

Fai'z Gallouj

Associate Professor of Economics, University of Lille 1, France

Edward Elgar

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	viii
List of contributors	x
Preface	xii
William J. Baumol
Introduction	xv
Jean Gadrey and Faiz Gallouj

PART I PRODUCTIVITY AND PERFORMANCES IN SERVICES

1. How stagnant are services?	3
Edward N. Wolff
2. The misuse of productivity concepts in services: lessons from a comparison between France and the United States	26
Jean Gadrey
3. Informational activities as co-production of knowledge and values	54
Jacques De Bandt and Ludovic Dibiaggio
4. Capital stock and productivity in French transport: an international comparison	76
Bernard Chane Kune and Nanno Mulder
5. Growth and productivity in a knowledge-based service economy	102
Pascal Petit
6. Networks, distributed knowledge and economic performance: evidence from quality control in corporate legal services	124
Emmanuel Lazega

PART II INNOVATION IN SERVICES AND THROUGH SERVICES

7. Services as leaders and the leader of the services	147
William J. Baumol
8. Services innovation: towards a tertiarization of innovation studies	164
Ian Miles	