

Capitalism Russian-Style

Thane Gustafson

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Foreword by Daniel Yergin	page ix
Acknowledgments ¹	xiv
Prologue	1
1 The new Russian Revolution: false start or dead end?	10
2 Creating owners: insider privatization and its consequences	35
3 Wall Street comes to Moscow	58
4 The rise and fall of the private banks	77
5 No capitalism without capitalists: entrepreneurship in the new Russia	108
6 Russia's epidemic of crime	134
7 Toward the rule of law?	151
8 Beyond coping: toward the recovery of Russian society	170
9 The shrinking Russian state and the battle for taxes	192
10 Conclusion: halfway to the market Russia on the eve of the twenty-first century	216
Bibliography	235
Index	255