

FREE TRADE AGREEMENTS

US Strategies and Priorities

Edited by Jeffrey J. Schott

INSTITUTE FOR INTERNATIONAL ECONOMICS

Washington, DC

April 2004

Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgments	xiii
I Overview
1 Free Trade Agreements: Boon or Bane of the World Trading System? Jeffrey J. Schott	3
Comment Richard N. Cooper	20
Comment Renato Ruggiero	25
Comment Guy de Jonquieres	30
II Lessons from US Experience with FTAs
2 Lessons from NAFTA Gary Clyde Hufbauer and Ben Goodrich	37

Free Trade Agreements as Foreign Policy Tools: The US-Israel and US-Jordan FTAs Howard Rosen	51
Lessons from the Chile and Singapore Free Trade Agreements Sidney Weintraub	79
III New Initiatives in the Asia Pacific
5 Australia-US Free Trade: Benefits and Costs of an Agreement Andrew L. Stoler	95
6 US Free Trade Agreements with ASEAN Dean A. DeRosa	117
7 Korea-US Free Trade Revisited Inborn Choi and Jeffrey J. Schott	173
8 US-Taiwan Free Trade Agreement Prospects Nicholas R. Lardy and Daniel H. Rosen	197
IV New Initiatives in Latin America
9 The US-Central America Free Trade Agreement: Opportunities and Challenges Jose M. Salazar-Xirinachs and Jaime Granados	225
10 Brazil: FTA or FTAA or WTO? Albert Fishlow	277
V New Initiatives in Africa and the Middle East
11 Egypt, Morocco, and the United States Ahmed Galal and Robert Z. Lawrence	299
12 Competitive Liberalization and a US-SACU FTA J. Clark Leith and John Whalley	331

VI	Policy Conclusions and Recommendations
13	Assessing US FTA Policy Jeffrey J. Schott	359
	Technical Appendix: Quantitative Estimates of the Economic Impacts of US Bilateral Free Trade Agreements Dean A. DeRosa and John P. Gilbert	383
	About the Contributors	419
	Acronyms	426
	Index	429