

MACROJUSTICE

The political economy of fairness

SERGE-CHRISTOPHE KOLM

Institute for Advanced Studies in the Social Sciences, Paris

r

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Presentation	page 1
PART ONE. BASES: CONSENSUS, FREEDOMS, AND CAPACITIES
ONE. INTRODUCTION
1 Macrojustice: An overview of its place, method, structure, and result	9
TWO. FREEDOM
2 Social freedom	40
3 The liberal theory	53
4 Free and equal in rights	70
THREE. RESOURCES
5 Resources	82
6 Capacities	90
PART TWO. OVERALL DISTRIBUTIVE JUSTICE: ELIE (EQUAL LABOUR INCOME EQUALIZATION)
7 Equal labour income equalization: General presentation	111
8 Models of labour and productivity	135
9 Equal duration income equalization	144
10 Information	167
11 Income justice	185
12 General equal labour income equalization: The model	207
13 Involuntary unemployment	212

PART THREE. COMPARISONS WITH POLICIES AND PHILOSOPHIES

14	Comparisons: General issues	221
15	Comparison with distributive schemes	233
16	Comparison with philosophies	244

PART FOUR. THE DEGREE OF COMMUNITY, EQUALITY, RECIPROCITY, AND SOLIDARITY

17	The degree of redistribution, solidarity, community, and reciprocity	279
18	Impartiality, consensus, and information	298
19	Disinterested judgments and the moral surplus	304
20	Communication and dialog	324
21	Impartialization to consensus	336

PART FIVE. COMPARISON WITH ECONOMICS' SOCIAL ETHICS

22	Related economic values	363
23	The structure and substance of distributive principles	389
24	Freedom and happiness	417
25	Freedoms, responsibility, desert, merit, equality of opportunity, capacities, capabilities, basic needs	438
26	The theory of equivalence	463
27	CONCLUSION	500
	References and bibliography	504
	Index	525